A. INLEIDING: BESWAARSKRIF	A. INTRODUCTION: PETITION OF PROTEST
1. Algemeen 1.1 Die Kerkrade van die Gereformeerde Kerke Noordrand, Klerksdorp en Wapadrant het afsonderlik en gesamentlik na deeglike besinning en oorweging besluit om die Beswaarskrif in te dien. 1.2 Die Beswaarskrif word ingedien teen besluite deur afgevaardigdes van die Gereformeerde Kerke in Suid-Afrika (GKSA) in die Algemene Sinode in 2009 en in die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode in 2016. 1.3 Die Beswaarskrif word ingedien omdat die bediening van die gesag van Christus in die regering van die Gereformeerde Kerke bedreig word deur kerklike besluite wat valse gesag bedien en met valse gesag op die kerke afgedwing word. 2. Indiening : Beswaarskrif 2.1 Die Beswaarskrif word ingedien langs die kerklike weg (KO, artt 30 en 33) in die lig van Sinodebesluite in die verband (Acta 2012:23, 5.2). 2.1.1 Die Beswaarskrif word ingedien in die lig van KO, artt 30 en 46 en in die lig van die besluit deur die afgevaardigdes van die wat in die Algemene Sinode in 2012 vergader het. 2.1.2 In die lig van die KO, art 30 is die saak wat die Beswaarskrif ter tafel bring 'n saak wat meer kerke raak en kan daarom nie deur 'n Klassis of Streeksinode afgehandel word nie. 2.1.3 Die besluit deur Sinode 2012, "Sou 'n Beswaarskrif langs die weg van KO, art 33 nie die nodige ondersteuning ontvang nie, en die beswaarde/s nie die advies van die betrokke mindere vergadering kan aanvaar nie, kan die beswaarde/s steeds die Beswaarskrif by die vergadering wat die besluit geneem het vir oorweging indien" (Acta 2012:23, 2.2.2) laat toe dat die Beswaarskrif in die lig van KO, art 46 by die Algemene Sinode 2018 ingedien kan word.	1. General 1.1 The Church Councils of the Reformed Churches Noordrand, Klerksdorp and Wapadrant decided separately and jointly, after careful deliberation, to submit the Petition of protest. 1.2 The Petition is submitted in protest against decisions by delegates of the Reformed Churches in South Africa (GKSA) during the General Synod in 2009 and during the Extraordinary General Synod in 2016. 1.3 The Petition of protest is submitted because the administering of the authority of Christ in the government of the Reformed Churches is being threatened by ecclesiastical decisions administering false authority and which are forced upon the churches by false authority. 2. Submitting : Petition of protest 2.1 The Petition of protest is submitted along the ecclesiastical route (CO, arts 30 and 33) according to Synodical decisions in this regard (Acts 2012:23, 5.2). 2.1.1 The Petition is submitted in accordance with CO, arts 30 and 46 and the resolution taken by the delegates of the GKSA assembled in the General Synod in 2012. 2.1.2 In light of CO, art 30 the matter tabled by this Petition is a matter that concerns more churches and therefore it can not be finalized by a Classis or Regional Synod. 2.1.3 The resolution by Synod 2012, "Sou 'n Beswaarskrif langs die weg van KO, art 33 nie die nodige ondersteuning ontvang nie, en die beswaarde/s nie die advies van die betrokke mindere vergadering kan aanvaar nie, kan die beswaarde/s steeds die Beswaarskrif by die vergadering wat die besluit geneem het vir oorweging indien" (Acta 2012:23, 2.2.2) allows the submission of the Petition to the General Synod 2018.

3. Ontvanklikheid : Beswaarskrif (KO, art 46) 3.1 Verskeie Beswaarskrifte is deur kerke teen die 2009-besluit (Acta 2009:667, 4) ingedien. Dit bevestig dat kerke die besluit nie as gesagvol aanvaar nie. 3.2 Oor die Beswaarskrifte is besluite geneem deur die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode in 2016 (Acta 2016:50-61, 21.3; 62-70, 21.4; 71-83, 21.5; 96-100, 21.8; 101-127, 21.2; 128-133, 21.3). Met die besluite is die 2009-besluit verdedig en besware daarteen afgewys. 3.3 Die Kerkrade het kennis geneem van Beswaarskrifte en die besluite daaroor deur die afgevaardigdes van die Gereformeerde Kerke in die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode 2016. 3.4 Nie een van die Beswaarskrifte maak beswaar – soos hierdie Beswaarskrif doen – dat die 2009-besluit valse gesag bedien en met valse gesag op die kerke afgedwing word nie. Acta 2016 toon dat die begrip ‘vals’ deur die ‘Kommissie Kerkregtelik’ (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130 - 3.3; 69, 4.2.1.1), en deur ‘n Beswaarskrif teen die besluit dat vroue in die lig van die Skrif in die besondere diens van diakens mag dien (Acta 2016:86, 2.1.1.5.3), gebruik is. Nie in een van die twee gevalle gaan dit oor die valse gesag wat die 2009-besluit bedien nie. ‘n Nuwe beswaar – die van valse gesag – teen die 2009-besluit is ontvanklik in die lig van KO, artt 30, 31, 33 en 46. 3.5 Die besware teen die 2016-besluite is nuwe sake en is ontvanklik in die lig van KO, artt 30, 31, 33 en 46. 3.6 Die besluite waarteen beswaar gemaak word, word aangehaal in B.1. 3.7 Duidelike motivering vir die beswaar word in beswaargronde in C.1-4 gegee. 3.8 In die lig van bogenoemde oordeel die Kerkrade dat hierdie Beswaarskrif teen die 2009-besluit en die 2016-besluite ontvanklik is.	3. Acceptability : Petition of protest (CO, art 46) 3.1 A number of Petitions of protest were submitted by churches against the 2009 resolution (Acta 2009:667, 4), confirming that churches do not accept the decision as authoritative. 3.2 The delegates of the GKSA, assembled in the Extraordinary General Synod in 2016, made several resolutions concerning the said Petitions (Acta 2016:50-61, 21.3; 62-70, 21.4; 71-83, 21.5; 96-100, 21.8; 101-127, 21.2; 128-133, 21.3). The said resolutions were in favour of the 2009 decision and rejected the Petitions of protest. 3.3 Church Councils took note of the Petitions and the resolutions by delegates of the Reformed Churches in the Extraordinary General Synod in 2016. 3.4 None of the said Petitions protested against the 2009 resolution on the basis that it administers false authority or that it is forced on the churches with false authority – as this Petition does. Acta 2016 shows that the concept of “false” was employed by the ‘Commission Church polity (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.3; 69, 4.2.1.1), as well as in a Petition of protest against the decision that in accordance with Scripture, women may serve in the particular service of deacon (Acta 2016:86, 2.1.1.5.3). In neither of the two cases is the false authority administered by the 2009 resolution raised. Consequently this new protest – that of false authority – against the 2009-decision, is acceptable in the light of CO, arts 30, 31, 33 and 46. 3.5 The objections against the 2016-resolutions are new matters and are acceptable in light of CO, arts 30, 31, 33 and 46. 3.6 The resolutions objected against, are quoted in B 1. 3.7 Clear justifications for the protest are set out in the grounds of objection in C. 1-4. 3.8 In the light of the foregoing, the Church Councils judge that this Petition of protest against the 2009-decision and the 2016-resolutions is acceptable.

4. Vertrekpunte : Beswaarskrif 4.1 Skrifgetroue : Kerkregering Die het die Presbiterial wyse van kerkregering aanvaar, omdat dit die mees Skrifgetroue wyse van kerkregering is. Enkele grondbeginsels van die Presbiterial kerkregering (presbiters/ouderlinge) en van hierdie Beswaarskrif is die volgende: 4.1.1 Solo Christo – Christus is die enigste Hoof en Koning van sy kerk. Hy alleen regeer sy kerk. Christus dra nie sy gesag in die regering van sy kerk oor aan ampsdraers of aan kerklike vergaderings nie. Christus gebruik ouderlinge om sy gesag te bedien in die regering van sy kerk. 4.1.2 Sola Scriptura – Christus alleen regeer sy kerk deur sy Woord en Gees. Christus laat sy gesag in die regering van sy kerk bedien deur presbiters wat besluite oor kerklike sake onder leiding van die Heilige Gees in gehoorsaamheid aan sy Woord neem. 4.2 Gesag : Kerklike besluite 4.2.1 Ware gesag : Kerklike besluite 4.2.1.1 Waarheid en die bediening van ware gesag in kerklike besluite is onlosmaaklik verbind aan Christus en sy Woord. 4.2.1.2 Die kenmerke van die ware kerk is dat almal hulle ooreenkomstig die suiwere Woord van God gedra, alles wat daarmee in stryd is verwerp en Jesus Christus as die enigste Hoof erken (NGB, art 29). 4.2.1.3 Kerklike besluite wat Skrifgegrond en gemotiveer is, bedien ware gesag – die gesag van Christus. 4.2.1.4 Kerklike besluite wat die gesag van Christus bedien omdat hulle Skrifgegrond is, is vas en bindend en sal gewillig en blymoedig deur sy kerk gehoorsaam word. 4.2.2 Valse gesag : Kerklike besluite 4.2.2.1 Die valse kerk is 'n werklikheid	4. Basis : Petition of protest 4.1 Scriptural : Church government Because Presbyterian Church governance conforms more closely to Scriptural precepts of church governance it has been adopted by the GKSA. Some principles of Presbyterian Church governance (presbyters /elders) and of this Petition are the following: 4.1.1 Solo Christo – Christ is the only Head and King of his church. Christ alone governs his church. Christ does not transfer his governing powers to office bearers or to ecclesiastical assemblies. Christ calls elders to administer his authority in the government of his church. 4.1.2 Sola Scriptura – Christ alone governs his church through his Word and his Spirit. Christ administers his authority in the governance of his church through presbyters making decisions on ecclesiastical matters under the guidance of the Holy Spirit and in obedience to his Word. 4.2 Authority : Ecclesiastical Resolutions 4.2.1 True authority : Church resolutions 4.2.1.1 Truth and the administering of true authority in ecclesiastical decisions are inseparable from Christ and his Word. 4.2.1.2 The marks of the true church are that it governs itself according to the pure Word of God, rejecting all things contrary to it and holding Jesus Christ as the only Head (BC, art 29). 4.2.1.3 Ecclesiastical decisions that are based on and justified by Scripture, administer true authority – the authority of Christ. 4.2.1.4 Ecclesiastical decisions that administer Christ's authority, because they are based on Scripture, are fixed and binding and will be willingly and joyfully obeyed by his church. 4.2.2 False authority : Ecclesiastical resolutions 4.2.2.1 The false church is a reality (BC,

(NGB, art 29) en daarmee saam, die gevaar van valse gesag in kerklike besluite. 4.2.2.2 Kerklike besluite wat NIE in die Skrif geanker en gemotiveer is NIE, bedien nie die gesag van Christus nie maar valse gesag. 4.2.2.3 Die valse kerk skryf aan homself en sy besluite meer mag en gesag toe as aan die Woord van God en wil homself nie aan Christus onderwerp nie (NGB, art 29). 4.2.2.4 Kerklike besluite sonder grondige motivering uit die Skrif, Belydenis of Kerkorde kom neer om menslike versinsels en wette (NGB, art 32) wat mense invoer om God te dien en gewetens te bind. 4.2.2.5 Christus (solo Christo) en die Skrif (sola Scriptura) alleen bepaal die gesag van kerklike besluite (Spoelstra 1989:143, 3).	art 29) and so too the danger of false authority in church decisions. 4.2.2.2 Ecclesiastical decisions which are not based on and justified by Scripture, administer false authority and not the authority of Christ. 4.2.2.3 The false church assigns more authority to itself and its ordinances than to the Word of God; and it does not want to subject itself to Christ (BC, art 29). 4.2.2.4 Ecclesiastical resolutions without sound foundation in the Word of God, in the Confessions or the Church Order, boil down to human innovations and laws which men introduce into the worship of God to bind and force our consciences (BC, art32). 4.2.2.5 Christ alone (solo Christo) and Scripture alone (sola Scriptura) determine the authority of ecclesiastical resolutions (Spoelstra 1989:143, 3).

van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode in 2009 (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). 1.1.2.2 KENNIS NEEM beteken dat die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode in 2009, die voorgestelde standpunte in die Rapport – en daarmee die Skrifgetuienis ter tafel – NIE vir hulle rekening neem NIE. Die feit word bevestig deur die aanbevelings van die Kerkregtelike Kommissie aan die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode in 2016: “n Vergadering het, byvoorbeeld, die prerogatief om bloot kennis te neem van ‘n voorstel wat hy nie vir sy eie rekening wil neem nie” Die feit word 4 (vier) keer herhaal (Acta 2016:67; 79; 98; 131, 3.7). 1.1.2.3 Die 2009-besluit (KENNIS GE-NEEM) beteken nie dat al die Skrifgetuienis wat die NEE-opsie ondersteun aanvaar en dat al die Skrifgetuienis wat die JA-opsie ondersteun verwerp is nie. Oor al die Skrifgetuienis vir die JA- en NEE-opsies is reeds besluit: KENNIS GENEEM (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). Die betrokke besluit ‘kennis geneem’, kan soos onderling ooreengekom, alleen verander word in die lig van KO, artt 31 en 46. 1.1.2.4 Omdat daar slegs kennis geneem is van die verskillende teenoorgestelde geloofwaardige en houdbare ekse-gese van verskillende Skrifgedeeltes in die Rapport, gee dit nie en kan dit nie Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit gee nie. Daarom is die ‘Kommissie Kerkregtelik’ se bevindings en aanbevelings by die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode 2016 in die verband nie waar nie. 1.1.2.5 Die Kommissie sê dat die 2009-besluit juis op grond van die Skrifgegewens in die Rapport geneem is (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.3). Dit is nie waar nie. Die Kommissie bevestig dit self. Die	geses (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). 1.1.2.2 NOTED means that the delegates of the GKSA in the General Synod in 2009, DO NOT ADOPT the proposed points of view in the Report and consequently the Scriptural evidence tabled, FOR THEIR OWN ACCOUNT. This fact is confirmed by recommendations from the ‘Commission Church polity’ to the delegates of the GKSA assembled in the Extraordinary General Synod in 2016: “A meeting, for instance, has the prerogative to simply take note of a proposal that it does not want to take for its account”. This fact is repeated 4 (four) times (Acta 2016:67; 79; 98; 131, 3.7). 1.1.2.3 The 2009-decision (NOTED) does not mean that all the Scriptural evidence in support of the NO-option was accepted or that all the Scriptural evidence in support of the YES-option was rejected. As far as the Scriptural evidence covering both the YES- and NO-options, a decision had been made. That decision was: NOTED (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). As mutually agreed, the relevant decision may only be amended in accordance with CO, arts 31 and 46. 1.1.2.4 Because the different reliable and trustworthy exegeses of different parts of Scripture in the Report were merely noted, they do not and cannot serve as Scriptural justification for the 2009-decision. Consequently the conclusions and recommendations by the ‘Commission Church polity’ to the Extraordinary General Synod 2016 in this regard, are not true and boil down to information that is not true. 1.1.2.5 The said Commission states that the 2009-decision was based on the Scriptural evidence in the Report (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.3). This is not true. The Commission itself confirms this

Kommissie wys dat 'n besluit om kennis te neem beteken dat 'n kerklike vergadering die standpunte nie vir eie rekening neem nie (Acta 2016:67; 79; 98; 131, 3.7). Daar is net kennis geneem van die Skrifgegewens in die Rapport (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). Daarom kan die Skrifgegewens in die Rapport nie – soos die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' sê – as Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit dien nie.	falsehood. The Commission points out that a decision to take note means that an ecclesiastical assembly does not adopt the relevant proposals for its own account (Acta 2016:67; 79; 98; 131, 3.7). The Scriptural evidence tabled by the Report was merely noted (Acta 2009:665; 12.10.1). Consequently the Scriptural evidence tabled in the Report cannot be presented as Scriptural justification for the 2009 decision, as the 'Commission Church polity' has said.
1.1.3 Gehoorzaamheid aan die Skrif : Behandeling van die Rapport	1.1.3 Obedience to Scripture : Reviewing the Report
1.1.3.1 Die Kommissierapport het aanbeveel dat die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode 2009 'in gehoorzaamheid aan die Skrif' (Acta 2009:664, 10.15), tussen die JA- en NEE-opsies kies. Die Advieskommissie wysig die aanbeveling en gee geen motivering vir die wysiging nie. Die gewysigde aanbeveling vra, dat die besluit vir die JA- of NEE-opsies NIE 'in gehoorzaamheid aan die SKRIF' NIE, maar 'in die lig van die behandeling van die Rapport' geneem word. So word die besluit aan die kerke bekend gemaak – 'in die lig van die behandeling van die Rapport' het die Sinode tot die oortuiging gekom dat vroue nie in die besondere dienste van predikant en ouderling mag dien nie (Acta 2009:669, 2).	1.1.3.1 The Report recommended that the delegates of the GKSA in the General Synod 2009 choose between the YES- and NO-options 'in obedience to Scripture' (Acta 2009:664, 10.15). The Advisory Commission amended this recommendation and gave no justification for the amendment. The amended recommendation proposes that the decision for the YES- or NO-option option be exercised 'after reviewing the Report' and not 'in obedience to Scripture'. And as such the decision was communicated to the churches – 'upon review of the report' the Synod came to the conviction that women may not serve in the special offices of minister and elder (Acta 2009:669, 2).
1.1.3.2 Die verandering van 'in gehoorzaamheid aan die Skrif' na 'in die lig van behandeling van die Rapport' is nie slegs woordspeling of 'n valse onderskeid soos by die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode 2016 beweer is nie (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.3). Die 2009-besluit kon nie in gehoorzaamheid aan die Skrif geneem word nie. Om 'n keuse te maak tussen twee verskillende teenoorgestelde opsies wat op geloofwaardige en houdbare eksegetiese berus sou beteken dat daar genoegsame Skrifgetuigenis is om vir een	1.1.3.2 The amendment of the expression "in obedience to Scripture" to "upon review of the Report" cannot be put down to mere semantics or to a false distinction as was alleged at the Extraordinary General Synod 2016 (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98,130, 3.3). The 2009-decision could not have been made in obedience to Scripture. To effect a choice between two opposite options, both of which are based on plausible and sustainable exegesis, requires that there be sufficient Scriptural

van die twee opsies te kies. Sodanige Skrifgetuienis bestaan nie en is nie in 2009 voorgelê vir oorweging in die besluitneming nie. Die 2009-besluit is nie in gehoorsaamheid aan die Skrif of op grond van Skrifgegewens in die Rapport geneem nie.	evidence upon which one option is chosen above the other. Such Scriptural evidence does not exist and was never submitted in 2009 for consideration towards the decision made. The 2009-decision was not made in obedience to Scripture nor on the basis of Scriptural evidence in the Report.
1.2 Motivering 2 : Beswaargrond 1 – Skrifmotivering : 2016-besluite (Verdere beswaar teen die 2016-besluite en die nodige motivering daarvoor word in beswaargrond 4 gegee).	1.2 Justification 2 : Ground of Objection 1 – Scriptural justification : 2016 decisions (Further objection against the 2016 decisions and justification for such objections are supplied in Ground of Objection 4).
1.2.1 In die Beswaarskrifte deur kerke ingedien teen die 2009-besluit is een van die besware juis dat daar nie Skrifmotivering vir die besluit is nie (Acta 2016:52, 5.1; 63, 3.1; 65, 3.3; 71, 2; 128, 2). Die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode 2016 besluit om die besware nie te handhaaf nie (Acta 2016:59, 2.11; 70, 4.4.2.1; 81, 4.1.2.1; 100, 4.1.3.1; 133, 4.3.1). Die 2016-besluite word geneem in die lig van aanbevelings van die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik'. In die bevindings en aanbevelings deur die Kommissie kom informasie voor wat nie waar is nie. Die volgende is 'n voorbeeld hiervan.	1.2.1 Amongst the petitions of Protest submitted by the churches against the 2009-decision, one of the objections was that there was no Scriptural justification for the decision (Acta 2016:52, 5.1; 63, 3.1; 65, 3.3; 71, 2; 128, 2). The delegates of the GKSA in the Extraordinary General Synod 2106 decided to repudiate such objections (Acta 2016: 59, 2.11; 70, 4.4.2.1; 81, 4.1.2.1; 100, 4.1.3.1; 133, 4.3.1). The 2016-decisions were taken in the light of recommendations by the 'Commission Church polity'. Information that is not true is evident in the conclusions and recommendations of this Commission, of which the following is an example.
1.2.2 Volgens die Kommissie is die beswaar dat Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit ontbreek slegs 'n bewering – 'n stelling wat nie waar is nie, maar vals (Acta 2016:66, 78, 98, 130, 3.2). Die Kommissie sê dat die 2009-besluit juis op grond van die Skrif geneem is (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.3). Soos hierbo aangedui in C. 1.1.2.4 en 1.1.2.5 is die stelling van die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' nie waar nie maar vals. In die lig van hierdie valse stelling, berus die bevinding oor die beswaar dat Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit ontbreek, op informasie wat nie waar is nie. Informasie wat nie waar is nie lei tot verkeerde besluite. Daarom het die 2016-besluite, die kerke se beswaar dat daar nie Skrifmotivering	1.2.2 The Commission states that the 2009-decision was in fact based on Scripture (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.3). As indicated above in C. 1.1.2.4 and 1.1.2.5 this statement by the 'Commission Church polity' is not true, but false. Consequently, in view of this false allegation, the conclusion regarding the objection against the 2009-decision, is based on information that is not true. Information that is not true leads to erroneous decisions. Therefore, the 2016 decisions wrongly repudiate the protest that the 2009-decision has no Scriptural justification.

vir die 2009-besluit is nie, verkeerdelik afgewys: 1.2.2.1 Die kerke maak beswaar en sê – daar is nie Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit nie; 1.2.2.2 Die ‘Kommissie Kerkregtelik’ se bevindings en aanbevelings skep valslik die indruk dat daar wel Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit is (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.3); 1.2.2.3 In die lig hiervan sê die 2016-besluite dat die beswaar nie geldig is nie; 1.2.2.4 MAAR – die Kommissie en die 2016-besluite bly in gebreke om enige Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit aan te dui; 1.2.2.5 Die beswaar deur die kerke is waar – daar is geen Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit nie; 1.2.3 Die beswaar is verkeerdelik op grond van informasie wat nie waar is nie afgewys – sonder dat die ‘Kommissie Kerkregtelik’ of die 2016-besluite die Skrifmotivering in en vir die 2009-besluit uitwys. 1.2.4 Die 2016-besluite kan nie Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit gee nie. Geen Skrifmotivering kan uit Acta 2009 vir die 2009-besluit aangewys word nie. Meerdere vergaderings is tydelik. Spoelstra (1989:210, 3) wys met motivering uit ‘n besluit in 1876 geneem (Acta 1876, art 223) dat ‘n volgende vergadering nie die besluite van ‘n vorige vergadering kan verklaar of motiveer nie. 1.3 Motivering 3 : Beswaargrond 1 – Riglyne : Godsopenbaring 1.3.1 Die besluit deur die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode in 2009 (Acta 2009:667, 4) bedien valse gesag omdat dit in stryd is met God se openbaring in sy Woord en in sy skepping. 1.3.2 Geen direkte teks uit die Skrif skryf voor dat vroue in die besondere dienste mag dien of nie mag dien nie (Acta 1997:557, 2.2.3; Acta 2003:600, 5.1.1). Daarom moet daar in die verband deeglik rekening gehou word	1.2.2.1 The churches object and maintain that there is no Scriptural justification for the 2009-decision; 1.2.2.2 The conclusions and recommendations of the ‘Commission Church polity’ creates the false impression that Scriptural justification for the 2009-decision does exist (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.3). 1.2.2.3 In the light hereof the 2016-decisions hold that the objection is invalid. 1.2.2.4 BUT – the Commission and the 2016-decisions fail to point out any Scriptural justification for the 2009 decision. 1.2.2.5 The objection by the churches is valid – there is no Scriptural justification for the 2009-decision. 1.2.3 The objection is wrongly repudiated on account of information that is not true – whilst the ‘Commission Church polity’ and the 2016-decisions fail to point out any Scriptural justification for the 2009-decision. 1.2.4 The 2016-decisions cannot supply Scriptural justification for the 2009 decision. No Scriptural justification can be shown from Acta 2009 for the 2009-decision. Major assemblies are temporary bodies. Spoelstra (1989:210,3) points out on the basis of a decision dated 1876 (Acta 1876: art 223), that it is beyond the powers of a subsequent assembly to explain or justify the decisions of previous assemblies. 1.3 Justification 3 : Ground of Objection 1 – Guidelines : God's revelation 1.3.1 The decision by delegates of the Reformed Churches in the General Synod in 2009 (Acta 2009: 667, 4) contradicts God’s revelation in Scripture and in creation and therefore administers false authority. 1.3.2 No direct text from Scripture directs either that women may or may not serve in the Particular offices (Acta 1997:557, 2.2.3; Acta 2003:600, 5.1.1). Consequently, the broad guidelines of God’s revelation should

met die breë riglyne in die Godsopenbaring. Die volgende breë riglyne in die Godsopenbaring moet in besluite oor die vrou in die besondere dienste van predikant en ouderling verreken word: 1.3.2.1 Man en vrou is as beeld van God geskep om as sy verteenwoordigers sy heerskappy uit te oefen, in en oor die skepping (Gen 1:26-27). Man en vrou ontvang die opdrag van God en die seën van God om gesag uit te oefen in hulle heerskappy-taak (Gen 1:28; Ps 8:5-9); 1.3.2.2 Die openbaring in die skepping toon duidelik dat gelowige mans en vroue diensbaar is in die Koninkryk van God waar hulle gesag uitoefen in posisies waar hulle leer en regeer – oor mans en oor vroue; 1.3.2.3 Die voorskrifte van die Here bevestig dat mans en vroue die taak en die verantwoordelikheid het vir die uitoefening van gesag in die huis en in die samelewing (Eks 20:12; Deut 5:16); 1.3.2.4 Die bedoeling van God met sy volk (mans en vroue) is dieselfde in die Ou- en Nuwe Testament: 'n koninkryk van priesters (Eks 19:5-6; 1 Pet 2:9; Op 1:5-6). In die koninkryk bedien en verkondig gelowige mans en vroue die gesag en heerskappy van God. Daartoe is hulle verlos; 1.3.2.5 In die gawes wat God deur Christus en deur die Heilige Gees aan sy kerk gee (Rom 12:4-8; 1 Kor 12 en 14; Ef 4:7-11; 1 Pet 4:7-11) word geen onderskeid gemaak op grond van geslag nie. Aan gelowige mans en vroue word genadegawes (χάρισμα) gegee tot diens om die kerk as liggaam van Christus op te bou. Die gawes om te preek en te leer word nie op grond van geslag aan mans en nie aan vroue gegee nie. 1.3.2.6 Gelowige mans en vroue ontvang die belofte om in die hiernamaals saam met Christus te regeer (Op 2:26; 3:21); 1.3.3 Die Godsopenbaring in die Woord en in die skepping bevestig dat gelowige mans en vroue in die Koninkryk van	be thoroughly accounted for in this regard. The following broad guidelines in God's revelation must be taken into account in decisions regarding women serving in the particular of minister and elder: 1.3.2.1 Both man and woman were created in the image of God and called to rule over God's creation as His representatives (Gen 1:27-27). Both man and woman received God's blessing and command to rule with authority (Gen 1:28; Ps 8:5-9); 1.3.2.2 God's revelation in creation clearly shows that both men and women serve the Kingdom of God in positions wherever they administer authority in teaching and governing over men and women; 1.3.2.3 The instructions of the Lord confirm that both men and women have the task and responsibility to exercise authority at home and in society (Ex 20:12; Deut 5:16); 1.3.2.4 In the Old and New Testaments God's purpose for his people is the same – to be a kingdom of priests (Ex 19:5-6; 1 Pet 2:9; Rev 1:5-6). In the kingdom believing men and women administer and proclaim the authority and reign of God. Redemption enables them to do this; 1.3.2.5 God, in giving gifts to his church through Christ and the Holy Spirit, (Rom 12:4-8; 1 Cor 12 en 14; Efe 4:7-11; 1 Pet 4:7-11), makes no distinction on the basis of gender. Gifts (χάρισμα) are bestowed upon faithful men and women to serve and to edify the church as the body of Christ. God – hier en in die hiernamaals – diensbaar is om sy gesag uit te oefen en te verkondig. Die 2009-besluit bepaal sonder enige Skrifmotivering dat vroue in die kerk nie in die leer- en regeerdiens van predikante en ouderlinge mag dien nie. Die 2009-besluit wat vroue sonder die nodige Skrifbegroning verbied om diensbaar te wees in die leer- en regeerdiens in die kerk, is in stryd met die Godsopenbaring.	now as well as in the life hereafter – to administer and proclaim his authority. The 2009-decision dictates without any Scriptural justification that women may not serve in the churches in the teaching and governing services of ministers and elders. The 2009-decision contradicts God’s revelation by prohibiting women from serving in the teaching and governing offices of the church without the necessary Scriptural justification.
1.3.4 Hoekom word gelowige vroue, diensbaar in die Koninkryk van God, toegelaat om sy gesag in hierdie wêreld te bedien en te verkondig maar nie in die kerk nie? Die 2009-besluit lei tot ‘n onhoudbare teenstrydigheid – die gesag van God in sy Koninkryk mag deur mans en vroue bedien word maar alleen mans en nie vroue nie, mag dit in sy kerk doen. Hierdie teenstrydigheid kan nie sonder duidelike Skrifgronde gehandhaaf word nie.	1.3.4 Why are believing women serving in the kingdom of God allowed to administer and proclaim his authority in the world, but not in the church? The 2009-decision creates an untenable contradiction - the Lord’s authority may be administered in his kingdom by both men and women, but only men may do so in His church. This contradiction cannot be condoned without clear Scriptural evidence to that effect.
1.3.5 Die 2009-besluit wat sonder Skrifmotivering in stryd is met die breë riglyne van God se openbaring in sy Woord en skepping bedien nie die gesag van God en sy Woord nie, maar valse gesag.	1.3.5 The 2009-decision which is in conflict with the broad guidelines of God’s revelation in Scripture and in creation, does not administer the authority of God or his Word. It administers a false authority.
1.4 Bevinding : Beswaargrond 1	1.4 Conclusion : Ground of Objection 1
1.4.1 Christus regeer sy kerk deur sy Woord en Gees (Spoelstra, 1989:462-464, 1). Daar was en is geen motivering uit die Skrif vir die 2009-besluit waarteen beswaar gemaak word, gegee nie.	1.4.1 Christ governs his church through his Word and Spirit (Spoelstra, 1988:462-464, 1). There was and is no Scriptural justification for for the 2009-decision, against which objection is made herein.
1.4.2 Die besluit deur die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode 2009 om vir die NEE-opsie te kies bedien valse gesag want Skrifgronde vir die besluit ontbreek.	1.4.2 The decision by delegates of the GKSA in the General Synod 2009, to choose the NO-option, administers false authority as it lacks Scriptural grounds.
1.4.3 ‘n Kerklike besluit sonder die nodige Skrifmotivering bedien nie die gesag van Christus nie maar valse gesag. Kerklike besluite waarin die gesag van die Woord bedien word, is vas en bindend. “In die Woord lê die gesag van enige kerklike besluit” (Du Plooy, 1979:94). ‘n Kerklike besluit wat op valse gesag berus kan nie en mag nie deur die kerke as vas en bindend	1.4.3 An ecclesiastical decision without the necessary Scriptural justification does not administer the authority of Christ, but false authority. An ecclesiastical decision based on

gehou word nie. 1.4.4 Uit die Godsopenbaring is dit duidelik dat gelowige mans en vroue – hier en in die hiernamaals en in die Ou en Nuwe Testament – die gesag en heerskappy van God moet bedien en verkondig. Die 2009-besluit wat bepaal dat alleen mans en nie vroue nie die gesag en heerskappy van God in die kerk mag bedien is in stryd met die Godsopenbaring. 1.4.5 Omdat die 2009-besluit in stryd is met die Godsopenbaring lei dit tot 'n onhoudbare teenstrydigheid tussen koninkryk en kerk. In die koninkryk mag mans en vroue die gesag en heerskappy van God bedien en verkondig maar in sy kerk mag vroue dit nie doen nie. In die lig van die teenstrydighede en aangesien geen motivering en geen Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit gegee is nie, bedien die 2009-besluit nie die gesag van God en sy Woord nie, maar valse gesag. 2. Beswaargrond 2 – Valse gesag : Belydenis Die besluit deur die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode in 2009 (Acta 2009:667, 4) bedien valse gesag in die lig van die Belydenis (NGB, artt 7, 29 en 32). 2.1 Motivering 1 : Beswaargrond 2 – Belydenis : 2009-besluit 2.1.1 Geen direkte teks uit die Skrif skryf voor dat vroue in die besondere dienste mag dien of nie mag dien nie (Acta 1997:557, 2.2.3; Acta 2003:600, 5.1.1). In na-spreke van die Skrif, maak die Belydenisskrifte geen uitspraak vir of teen die vrou in die besondere dienste nie (Acta 1988:516, 3.3.2). 2.1.2 Die saak van die vrou in die besondere dienste van predikante en ouderlinge is opsigself nie 'n belydenis saak nie (Acta 2009:664, 10.16.2). Daarom het die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Nasionale Sinode in 1988 tot die bevinding gekom dat: “Wanneer kerke na langdurige en	false authority cannot be held to be fixed and binding by the churches. 1.4.4 Believing men and women have to administer and proclaim the authority and rule of God, now and in the life hereafter. This much is clear from God's revelation – in the Old and New Testaments. The 2009-decision that allows only men to administer God's authority and rule in the church, but excludes women from doing so, contradicts God's revelation. 1.4.5 Because the 2009-decision contradicts the Lord's revelation, it promotes an untenable contradiction between kingdom and church. In the kingdom both men and women may administer and proclaim the authority and rule of God, but women may not do so in church. Due to this contradiction and as the 2009-decision lacks Scriptural justification, the 2009-decision administers false authority and not the authority of God and his Word. 2. Ground of Objection 2 – False authority : Confession In the light of our Confession (BC, arts 7, 29 and 32), the 2009-decision by delegates of GKSA in the General Synod in 2009 (Acta 2009: 667, 4), administer false authority. 2.1 Justification 1 : Ground of Objection 2 – Confession : 2009-decision 2.1.1 No direct text from Scripture directs either that women may or may not serve in the particular services of the church (Acta 1997:557, 2.2.3; Acta 2003:600, 5.1.1). Echoing Scripture, the Confessions also contain no judgment for or against women in the particular services (Acta 1988:516, 3.3.2). 2.1.2 The matter of women serving in the particular offices of ministers and of elders is in itself not a Confessional one (Acta 2009:664, 10.16.2). This is the very reason why the delegates of the GKSA in the National Synod in 1988 came to the conclusion that: (Free translation from Afrikaans) “When, after prolonged, prayerful

In stryd met ons Belydenis word valse gesag met die 2009-besluit, die valse gesag van groot getalle (NGB, art 7), gelyk gestel met die gesag van die Skrif want die besluit word valslik voorgehou as 'n besluit wat die gesag van die Skrif bedien.	study of Scripture under guidance by the Holy Spirit, the churches may come to the conclusion that women may in fact serve in particular offices, it will be difficult to maintain that such decision would be in conflict with the Reformed Confessions. This stipulation constitutes an addition to Scripture in conflict with the Confession (BC, art 7). 2.2.1.3 The 2009-decision, lacking any Scriptural justification, does not administer the authority of Scripture. 2.2.2 NGB, art 29  2.2.2.1 Die 2009-besluit is nie, soos van die ware kerk gevra (NGB, art 29), ooreenkomstig die Skrif geneem nie. Die waarskuwing dat die valse kerk aan sy besluite meer mag en gesag toeskryf as aan die Woord van God (NGB, art 29) moet ten opsigte van die 2009-besluit ernstig opgeneem word omdat daar geen Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkorde-begroning vir die besluit gegee is nie. 2.2.3 NGB, art 32  2.2.3.1 Sonder enige geldige motivering gaan die 2009-besluit (Acta 2009:667, 4) verder as die Skrif en Belydenis en bepaal dat vroue nie in die besondere dienste van predikante en ouderlinge mag dien nie. Omdat die 2009-besluit nie op die Skrif gegrond nie is die besluit, soos ons bely, 'n menslike wet wat gewetens bind (NGB, art 32). 2.2.3.2 Kerklike besluite wat in die lig van NGB, art 32 menslike wette is, lei tot menslike heerskappyvoering in die kerk waardeur die gesag en regering van Christus verdring word. Because the 2009-decision has no Scriptural justification, the decision is, according to our Confession, a man-made law imposed to bind and force our consciences (BC, art 32). 2.2.3.2 Ecclesiastical decisions which conflict with BC, art 32, are man-made inventions resulting in human dominion in the church and the ousting of the authority and rule of Christ. 2.3 Motivering 3 : Beswaargrond 2 – Belydenis : 2016-besluite  2.3.1 Die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' se opmerkings en bevindings by die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode 2016 in verband met gewetensbinding en NGB, art 32 is nie die waarheid nie. Die beoordeling is nie waar nie maar vals. 2.3.3 Tereg sê die Kommissie dat besluite	2.3 Justification 3 : Ground of Objection 2 – Confession : 2016 decisions  2.3.1 Comments and conclusions by the 'Commission Church polity' at the Extraordinary General Synod 2016, concerning the constraint of conscience and BC, art 32 boil down to information that is not true (Acta 2016:67, 79, 99, 131, 3.8; 80, 4.1.1.1, 4.1.1.3). 2.3.2 The objection that decisions unsupported by Scripture impose a constraint on our consciences is rejected by the Commission as invalid. This judgement is not justified. 2.3.3 The Commission correctly states

wat met meerderheidstem op grond van Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde geneem word, nie heers en gewetens bind nie, want dan regeer die Skrif. Hierdeur word die indruk geskep dat die 2009-besluit op grond van Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde geneem is, dat Skrifgesag in die besluit bedien en dat die besluit nie gewetens kan bind nie. Hierdie indruk wat geskep word, is vals. Die Kommissie het nie aangetoon nie en kan nie aantoon dat die 2009-besluit op grond van die Skrif, Belydenis of Kerkorde geneem is nie.	that decisions by majority vote, taken on the basis of Scripture, Confession and the Church Order, cannot bind our consciences, as that is when Scripture governs. But in so stating, the impression is created that the 2009 decision was taken on the basis of the Scripture, Confession and the Church Order, that Scriptural authority is administered in the decision and that the decision cannot constrain our consciences. This impression is false. The Commission did not and cannot show that the 2009-decision was taken on the basis of Scripture, Confession and the Church Order.
2.3.4 Die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' gebruik informasie wat nie waar is nie om die beswaar deur GK Krugersdorp dat die 2009-besluit die gewetens bind (NGB, art 32), af te wys (Acta 2016:80-81, 4.1).	2.3.4 The 'Commission Church polity' employs information that is not true to repudiate (Acta 2016:80-81, 4.1) the protest by GK Krugersdorp to the effect that the 2009-decision constrains conscience (BC, art 32).
2.3.5 Die Kommissie se verwysing (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.6), dat die Beswaarskrif se verwysing na NGB, art 32 dat groot getalle gewetens bind, is nie waar nie. Die verwysing na die gevaar van groot getalle word nie deur die beswaar in die lig van NGB, art 32 gemaak nie maar in die lig van NGB, art 7 (Acta 2016:72, 2.3).	2.3.5 The reference by the Commission (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.6) that the citation from BC, art 32 in the Petition of protest – not to constrain conscience by the majority – is untenable. The reference to the danger of the majority (large numbers) is however, correctly made by the Petition of protest in accordance with BC, art 7 (Acta 2016:72, 2.3).
2.3.6 Die Kommissie verdraai die bedoeling van beswaargrond 1. In beswaargrond 1 (Acta 2016:71-72, 2) word beswaar gemaak teen die 2009-besluit omdat die besluit gewetens bind (NGB, art 32) op gesag van die meerderheidstem (NGB, art 7 – groot getalle) en nie op gesag van die Skrif nie (NGB, art 7 – volkomenheid van die Skrif). Die bedoeling van die beswaargrond was nie om – soos deur die Kommissie verdraai (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.6) – op grond van die Skrif aan te toon dat vroue in die besondere dienste van predikante en ouderlinge mag dien nie. Die verdraaiing deur die Kommissie is 'n wanvoorstelling van die waarheid.	2.3.6 The Commission misrepresents the intention behind ground of objection 1. In ground of objection 1 (Acta 2016:71-72, 2), objection is made against the 2009-decision on account of the decision constraining conscience (BC, art 32) on the strength of the majority (BC, art 7 – “great multitude”) and not on the authority of Scripture (BC, art 7 – the sufficiency of Scripture). The intention behind this ground of objection was not, as the Commission mis-represents it, to show in the light of Scripture that women may be ordained as elders or ministers.

die besondere dienste van predikant en ouderling dien nie?  Antwoord: Omdat die Sinode so besluit het. 3.1.2.3 Geen ander antwoord – as miskien die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem – kan op die vraag gegee word nie. Omdat geen motivering en geen Skrifmotivering vir die besluit gegee is nie, bedien die 2009-besluit valse kollegialistiese gesag – die gesag van die Sinode as vergadering. 3.1.2.4 Dat die valse gesag van kollegialisme ‘n bedreiging is vir besluitneming deur die word bevestig deur die volgende: 3.1.2.4.1 ‘n Opvallende verskil tussen die Handeling van vroeëre Sinodes en die van die afgelope paar Sinodes. Die Handeling van vroeëre Sinodes wys dat duidelike motivering vir besluite gegee word (Acta 1988:519, 3.6.2-3.6.5). In die Handeling van latere Sinodes word geen motivering vir besluite gegee nie (Acta 2009:667, 4; Acta 2016:69-70, 4.2.2.1, 4.3.2.1, 4.4.2.1, 4.5.2.1, 4.6.2). 3.1.2.4.2 Die gesag van ‘n kerklike besluit berus op die motivering vir die besluit. Daarom is duidelike motivering van kerklike besluite noodsaaklik (Spoelstra 1989:195-196, 5). Sonder motivering berus die besluit op die kollegialistiese gesag van die vergadering waardeur die besluit geneem is. 3.1.2.4.3 ‘n Wesentlike verskuiwing vind plaas ten opsigte van kerklike besluite oor sake. Al meer word die vraag gevra ‘Wat sê die Sinode oor die saak?’. Al minder word die vraag gehoor: ‘Wat sê die Skrif oor die saak?’. Hierdeur verskuif die gesag van die Skrif na die Sinode. Skrifgesag maak plek vir die valse kollegialistiese gesag van die Sinode as vergadering. In Presbiteriale kerkregering is dit meer korrek om te vra: ‘Wat sê die kerke wat in die Sinode vergader in die lig van die Skrif oor die saak?’	2009, not serve in the particular offices of minister and elders?  Answer: Because the Synod so decided. 3.1.2.3 No other reply presents itself to the above question – barring, perhaps, the false authority of the majority vote. Because no justification and no Scriptural justification is supplied for the decision, the 2009-decision administers false collegialistic authority – the authority of the Synod as an assembly. 3.1.2.4 The following considerations confirm that the false authority of collegialism presents a threat to decision-making in the GKSA: 3.1.2.4.1 An obvious difference between the Acts of previous Synods and those of the last few years. The Acts of previous Synods show that clear justification for decisions is supplied (Acta 1988:519, 3.6.2-3.6.5). In the Acts of recent Synods, no justification for decisions is supplied (Acta 2009:667, 4; Acta 2016:69-70, 4.2.2.1, 4.3.2.1, 4.4.2.1, 4.5.2.1, 4.6.2). 3.1.2.4.2 The authority of an ecclesiastical decision depends on its justification. That is why clear justification of ecclesiastical decisions is indispensable (Spoelstra 1989:195, 5). In the absence of justification the authority of a decision is based on the collegialistic authority of the assembly. 3.1.2.4.3 A substantial shift has taken place in connection with church decisions. More often than not, the question is put as to what Synod has to say about a matter. The question as to what Scripture says about a matter is less often raised. This indicates a shift in the origin of authority, from Scripture to the Synod. Scriptural authority is being ousted by the false collegialistic authority of the Synod as an assembly. In terms of Presbyterian church governance it would be more

3.1.3 2016-besluite : Valse gesag van Kollegialisme 3.1.3.1 Die bevindings en aanbevelings van die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' by die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode 2016 bevestig die kollegialistiese gesag van die 2009-besluit. Die Kommissie laat die klem val op die Sinode wat besluit en nie op die gronde vir die besluit nie:  Die Sinode maak 'n keuse (Acta 2016:66, 78, 98, 130, 3.2);  'n Sinode neem besluite (Acta 2016:67, 79, 98, 130, 3.4);  Die kerke moet studeer en hul studie deur die Sinode laat toets (Acta 2016:67, 79, 98, 131, 3.6);  Sinode 2015 het besluit dat die saak van die vrou 'n wesentlike saak is en die besluit moet as vas en bindend gehou word (Acta 2016:68, 80, 99, 131, 3.14);  Die Sinode het 'n besluit geneem en daardeur het die Sinode geoordeel dat een standpunt korrek is (Acta 2016:68, 4.1.1.1). 3.1.3.2 Die Kommissie sê Sinodebesluite het gesag. Die Sinode word teenoor die kerke gestel. Kollegialisties moet die kerke hulle studie deur die Sinode laat toets en hulle aan die gesag van die Sinode onderwerp. Sinodebesluite is kollegialisties vas en bindend vir die kerke omdat die Sinode so besluit het. Die Sinode hoef geen motivering vir besluite te gee nie. Kollegialisties lê die gesag van 'n besluit nie in sy motivering nie maar in die Sinode wat die besluit geneem het. 3.1.3.3 Die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' se poging (Acta 2016:67, 79, 99, 131, 3.10; 80, 4.1.1.5), om kollegialistiese gesag in die 2009-besluit af te wys bevestig die teendeel. Tereg sê die Kommissie dat kerke in meerdere vergaderings, in ooreenstemming met Presbiteriale kerkregering,	appropriately to ask: 'What do the churches, who are meeting in a Synod, say about this matter in light of Scripture?' 3.1.3 2016-decisions : False authority of Collegialism 3.1.3.1 The conclusions and recommendations of the 'Commission Church polity at the Extraordinary General Synod 2016 confirm the collegialistic authority of the 2009-decision. The Commission emphasizes the Synod that took the decision and not the justification for the decision:  The Synod chose (Acta 2016:66, 78, 98, 130 - 3.2);  A Synod makes decisions (Acta 2016:67, 79, 98, 130 - 3.4);  The churches should study and have their studies tested by the Synod (Acta 2016:67, 79, 98, 131 - 3.6);  Synod 2015 however decided that it is in fact an essential or principle matter; this decision must be seen as binding (Acta 2016:68, 80, 99, 131, 3.14);  The Synod made a decision. By doing so, the Synod judged that the one point of view is correct. (Acta 2016:68, 4.1.1.1). 3.1.3.2 The Commission says that Synod decisions have authority. The Synod is contrasted with the churches. The Commission proclaims that the churches should have their studies tested by the Synod and submit (collegialism) to the authority of Synod. In collegialism Synod decisions are fixed and binding because Synod so decided, irrespective of their justification. In collegialism the authority of a decision is based not in its justification but in the Synod that took the decision. 3.1.3.3 The attempt by the 'Commission Church polity' to deny (Acta 2016:67, 79, 99, 131, 3.10; 80, 4.1.1.5), the collegialistic authority behind the 2009-decision, confirms just the opposite. Quite correctly the Commission maintains that churches assembled in major as-

saam besluite neem op grond van Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde. Presbiteriaal berus die gesag van 'n kerklike besluit in die motivering van die besluit. Kollegialisties kan motivering vir 'n besluit ontbreek want die gesag van 'n besluit berus op die gesag van die Sinode as vergadering. Wanneer geldige motivering vir 'n besluit ontbreek – wanneer daar nie Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkorde-begroning vir 'n besluit is nie, bedien die besluit die kollegialistiese gesag van die vergadering wat die besluit geneem het.	semblies, together take decisions in accordance with Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order. This is in compliance with principles of Presbyterian Church governance. According to Presbyterian governance, the authority of a decision derives from its justification. According to collegialism, a decision may lack justification because the authority behind a decision resides in the Synod as an assembly. When an ecclesiastic decision lacks sound justification, when justification based on Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order is absent, the decision administers the authority of the assembly which takes the decision.
3.1.3.4 Vir die 2009-besluit is geen Skrif-, Belydenis-, en Kerkorde-begroning gegee nie. Daarom bedien die besluit valse kollegialistiese gesag.	3.1.3.4 No justification from Scripture, the Confession or from the Church Order is supplied for the 2009 decision. Consequently, that decision administers false, collegialistic authority.
3.1.4 Bevinding : Motivering 1 – Beswaargrond 3	3.1.4 Conclusion : Justification 1 – Ground of Objection 3
3.1.4.1 In Presbiteriale kerkregering gee die Sinode as vergadering nie gesag aan besluite nie. Vir die berus besluite wat die kollegialistiese gesag van die vergadering bedien, op valse gesag.	3.1.4.1 According to precepts of Presbyterial church governance, the Synod as assembly does not bestow authority on its decisions. For the GKSA, decisions which administer collegialistic authority of an assembly, administer false authority.
3.1.4.2 Aangesien Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkorde-begroning vir die 2009-besluit ontbreek bedien die besluit kollegialistiese gesag – die gesag van die vergadering.	3.1.4.2 As the 2009-decision lacks justification from Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order, the decision administers collegialistic authority of the assembly.
3.1.4.3 Indien kerke die 2009-besluit as vas en bindend moet beskou NET omdat die Sinode die besluit geneem het, kom dit neer op die afdwing van valse kollegialistiese gesag soos Spoelstra (1989:189, 3) dit aandui “Synodus locuta est causa finita est (Sinode het gepraat, die saak is besluit)”.	3.1.4.3 If churches have to accept the decision as fixed and binding ONLY because the Synod took the decision, it boils down to enforcing false collegialistic authority, as Spoelstra puts it (1989:189, 3): “Synodus locuta est causa finita est (Synod has spoken, the matter is decided)”.
3.1.4.4 Die 2016-besluite wys die beswaarteen kollegialisme in die 2009-besluit af sonder geldige motivering en sonder om die Skrifgesag vir die besluit te bevestig.	3.1.4.4 The 2016-decisions reject the objection against collegialism in the 2009-decision without valid justification and without confirming the Scriptural justification for the

3.1.4.5 'n Kerklike besluit wat op die valse gesag van die kollegialisme berus kan en mag nie deur die as vas en bindend gehou word nie. 3.2 Motivering 2 : Beswaargrond 3 – Valse gesag : Meerderheidstem Die besluit deur die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode in 2009 (Acta 2009:667, 4) bedien valse gesag in die lig van die Kerkorde omdat die besluit die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem bedien. 3.2.1 Valse gesag : Meerderheidstem 3.2.1.1 Meerderheidstem is die wyse waarop die kerke besluite neem (KO, art 31). In die Presbiteriale kerkregering verleen die meerderheidstem nie gesag aan besluite nie. 'n Kerklike besluit het nie bindende gesag bloot omdat die meerderheid so besluit het nie. Die gesag wat 'n kerklike besluit bedien is nie afhanklik, van waar (Sinode) of hoe (met meerderheid van stemme) die besluit geneem is nie, maar van die motivering / gronde vir die besluit. 3.2.1.2 In die demokrasie setel die gesag van besluite in die stem van die meerderheid (Spoelstra 1989:205, 2). In 'n teokrasie – in die kerk waar Christus regeer – setel die gesag van besluite in die begroning daarvan. 'n Besluit wat met die nodige Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkorde-begroning geneem is, is vas en bindend (KO, art 33). Indien 'n besluit sonder enige Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkorde-begroning op die gesag van die meerderheidstem berus, bedien die besluit die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem. 3.2.2 2009-besluit : Valse gesag van die meerderheidstem 3.2.2.1 Die 2009-besluit is met meerderheid van stemme geneem. Geen Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkorde-begroning is vir die besluit gegee nie. Daarom word die gesag van die besluit deur die kerke bevraagteken: 'Berus die gesag van die 2009-besluit op die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem?'	decision. 3.1.4.5 A church decision based on the false authority of collegialism cannot and should not be held to be fixed and binding by the GKSA. 3.2 Justification 2 : Ground of Objection 3 – False authority : Majority vote The decision by the delegates of the GKSA in the General Synod 2009 (Acta 2009:667, 4) administers false authority in the light of the CO because the decision administers the false authority of the majority vote. 3.2.1 False Authority : Majority Vote 3.2.1.1 Churches take decisions by majority vote (CO, art 31). In Presbyterian church governance the vote of the majority does not bestow authority on decisions. An ecclesiastic decision has no binding authority merely because it represents the vote of the majority. The authority administered by an ecclesiastic decision is dependent upon the grounds on which it is justified, not on where (the Synod) or how (by majority vote) the decision is arrived at. 3.2.1.2 In a democracy the authority of resolutions resides in the vote of the majority. In a theocracy – in the church where Christ reigns – the authority of decisions resides in the foundation thereof. A decision arrived at on the necessary foundation of Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order, is fixed and binding (Art 33 CO). A decision without any foundation in Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order that is taken by majority vote, administers the false authority of the majority vote. 3.2.2 2009-decision: False authority of the majority vote 3.2.2.1 The 2009-decision was taken by means of the majority vote. No foundation in Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order was supplied for this decision. The reason why the churches question the authority thereof is because its authority is derived from the majority vote.

3.2.2.2 Weer bevestig die hoekom-vraag die valse gesag van die 2009-besluit:  Vraag: Hoekom mag vroue volgens die besluit deur die afgevaardigdes in die Algemene Sinode 2009 nie in die besondere dienste van predikant en ouderling dien nie?  Antwoord: Omdat die meerderheid so besluit het.	3.2.2.2 The ‘why question’ once again confirms the false authority administered in the 2009-decision:  Question: Why may women, according to the decision by the delegates in the General Synod 2009, not serve in the particular offices of ministers and elders?  Answer: Because the majority so decided.
3.2.2.3 Geen geldige gronde uit die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde is vir die 2009-besluit gegee nie. Daarom bedien die 2009-besluit die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem.	3.2.2.3 The 2009-decision has no valid foundation at all in Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order. Consequently the decision administers false authority – the false authority of the majority vote.
3.2.3 2016-besluite : Valse gesag van die meerderheidstem	3.2.3 2016-decisions: False authority of the Majority Vote
3.2.3.1 By die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode in 2016 word verskeie besware teen die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem in die 2009-besluit beoordeel (Acta 2016:63, 2; 71, 2; 128, 2). Die besware is eenstemmig dat die 2009-besluit in die afwesigheid van duidelike Skrifgronde met die gesag van die meerderheidstem op die kerke afdwing word (Acta 2016: 64-65, 3.1 en 3.2; 71, 2.2; 129, 3.6 en 3.7).	3.2.3.1 At the Extraordinary General Synod in 2016 several objections against the false authority of the majority vote in the 2009-decision, were adjudicated (Acta 2016:63, 2; 71, 2; 128, 2). The objections were unanimous to the effect that in the absence of clear justification from Scripture, the Confession or from the Church Order, the 2009-decision is forced on the churches on the authority of a majority vote (Acta 2016: 64-65, 3.1 and 3.2;71, 2.2; 129, 3.6 and 3.7).
3.2.3.2 Die besware teen die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem word op grond van informasie wat nie waar is nie deur die ‘Kommissie Kerkregtelik’ afgewys.	3.2.3.2 Objections against the false authority of the majority vote were repudiated on account of information from the ‘Commission Church polity’ that is not true.
3.2.3.3 Die Kommissie verwys na die beswaar dat die 2009-besluit sonder enige motivering, een standpunt met meerderheidstem op die minderheid afdwing (Acta 2016:66, 78, 98, 130, 3.2). Die Kommissie gaan egter nie verder op die beswaar in nie en gee geen rede waarom die beswaar nie geldig is nie.	3.2.3.3 The Commission refers to the objection that the 2009 decision enforces one viewpoint upon the minority, by majority vote, without any justification (Acta 2016:66, 78, 98, 130, 3.2). However, the Commission gives no further consideration to the objection and also supplies no reason for holding the objection to be invalid.
3.2.3.4 Die beswaar dat gewetensbinding plaasvind wanneer die gesag van besluite op die meerderheidstem en nie op Skrif berus nie, word afge maak as ongeldig – ‘n beoordeling wat self nie waar is nie (Acta 2016:67, 79, 99, 131, 3.8; 80,	3.2.3.4 The objection that a constraint on conscience is perpetrated whenever the authority of a decision is founded on a majority vote and not on Scripture – is repudiated as being invalid. This contention is untrue (Acta 2016:67,

4.1.1.1, 4.1.1.3). Geen bewyse word hiervoor gegee nie.	79, 99, 131, 3.8; 80, 4.1.1.1, 4.1.1.3). No evidence is presented to the effect that the objection is invalid.
3.2.3.5 Valse-informasie kom na vore in teenstrydige algemene stellings (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.1-4.1.1.3) sonder dat die beswaar teen die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem met duidelike bewysvoering weerlê word.	3.2.3.5 Information that is not true appears in contradictory, general statements, (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.1-4.1.1.3) without the objection against the false authority of the majority vote being contradicted on clear evidence.
3.2.3.6 Aan die een kant verdedig die Kommissie die meerderheidstem asof die kerke ooreengekom het dat die meerderheidstem gesag aan kerklike besluite verleen (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.2)  “Die weg van KO, art 31 (meerderheid besluit) het onself met mekaar vasgemaak” (Acta 2016:68, 4.1.1).  “Sou die beswaardes hiermee (met die meerderheidstem) – ‘n probleem hê, moet hulle die kerklike weg volg om ooreenkomstig KO, art 31 (waarop saam ooreengekom is) te wysig” (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.1).  “Daar word beweer dat die Sinode die kerke deur sy besluit tot een standpunt dwing bloot op grond van ‘n meerderheid van stemme. So ‘n redenasie misken KO, art 31” (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.2).	3.2.3.6 On the one hand the Commission defends the majority vote as if the churches had agreed on that the majority vote bestows authority upon ecclesiastic decisions (Acta 2016:67, 78, 98, 130, 3.2)  “The way of CO, art 31 (majority decision) is our arrangement with one another (Acta 2016:68, 4.1.1)”.  “Would the aggrieved have a problem with this (the majority vote), they must follow the churchly way according to CO, art 31 (which is agreed upon) in order to change it (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.1)”.  “There is claimed that the Synod forces the churches through its decision towards one point of view through a majority of votes. Such an argument denies CO, art 31 (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.2)”.
3.2.3.7 Aan die ander kant bevestig die Kommissie dat nie die meerderheidstem nie, maar die Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkorde-begroning gesag aan besluite verleen (Acta 2016:67, 79, 99, 131, 3.8; 80, 4.1.1.4).  “Wanneer ‘n besluit met meerderheidstem geneem word op grond van Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde, word daar nie geheers nie (foutiewe interpretasie van KO, art 84), want dan regeer die Skrif” (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.3).  “Besluite deur meerdere vergaderings word juis geneem op grond van Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde” (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.4).	3.2.3.7 On the other hand, the Commission confirms that justification from Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order bestows authority on decisions, not the vote of the majority (Acta 2016:67, 79, 99, 131, 3.8; 80, 4.1.1.4).  “When a decision is taken by majority vote based upon Scripture, Confession and Church Order, is taken by majority-vote, there is no ruling (faulty interpretation of CO, art 84), because then Scripture rules. (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.3)”  “Decisions by greater meetings is taken based upon Scripture, Confession and Church Order. (Acta 2016:80, 4.1.1.4).”
3.2.3.8 Aangesien daar geen Skrif-, Belydenis- of Kerkorde-begroning vir die 2009-besluit gegee is nie en aange-	3.2.3.8 As a result of the 2009-decision lacking foundation in Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order,

sien die ‘Kommissie Kerkregtelik’ geen sodanige gronde aandui nie, berus die 2009-besluit op die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem (demokrasie) en op die valse gesag van kollegialisme (Sinode).	and as a result of the ‘Commission Church polity’ not indicating any such foundation, the 2009-decision is based on the false authority of the majority vote (democracy) and on the false authority of collegialism (Synod).
3.2.3.9 Waar ‘n verskil van mening oor ‘n saak heers kan ‘n paar stemme nie voorskryf wat vas en bindend is nie (Spoelstra 1989:193, 2). Die noodsaak vir die motivering van kerklike besluite word deur Spoelstra (1989:195-196, 5) uitgewys: “Omdat die besluit van ‘n kerklike vergadering deur sy kwaliteit en inherente waarde gedra moet word, moet dit op duidelike oorweging van grond rus...” en “Meerdere vergaderings behoort geen saak sonder opgawe van rede te beslis nie”.	3.2.3.9 Where there is a difference of opinion about a matter, the majority of a few votes should not decide what is fixed and binding (Spoelstra 1989:193, 2). The necessity for justifying ecclesiastical decisions is pointed out by Spoelstra (1989:195-196, 5): “Omdat die besluit van ‘n kerklike vergadering deur sy kwaliteit en inherente waarde gedra moet word, moet dit op duidelike oorweging van grond rus...” and “Meerdere vergaderings behoort geen saak sonder opgawe van rede te beslis nie”.

In major assemblies, churches take decisions through delegates about matters that could not be finalized by minor assemblies (CO, art 30). 3.3.1.2 The authority which is administered by ecclesiastical decisions in a local church, is the same authority administered by the decisions of delegates of the churches in major assemblies - is the authority of Christ in obedience to Scripture. 3.3.2 Letter of credence : CO, art 33 3.3.2.1 Credentials testify as to who are delegated and what the mandate of the delegates is. wys. Die indruk kom neer op informasie wat nie waar is nie want die opdrag is nie uitgevoer nie en geen kerkregtelike beginsels word deur die Kommissie uitgewys nie. In al 4 (vier) Rapporte van die Kommissie oor die Beswaarskrifte word daar een keer na die beginsel van KO, art 31 verwys (Acta 2016:67; 79; 98; 130, 3.5). Wat die beginsel is word nie uitgewys nie.	church polity principles emanating from the Petitions of protest. This impression boils down to information that is not true, as the assignment was not carried out and no church polity principles were pointed out. In all 4 (four) reports of the Commission concerning the Petitions of protest, there is one reference to the principle of CO, art 31 (Acta 2016:67; 79; 98; 130, 3.5). What the particular principle entails is not disclosed.
4.1.1.3 Die verwysing na kerkregtelike beginsels in die opdrag aan en in die Rapport van die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' sonder dat die beginsels aangewys word, kom neer op informasie wat nie waar is nie. Met informasie wat nie waar is nie, is die indruk geskep dat die besware in die lig van kerkregtelike beginsels beoordeel is. In die lig van informasie wat nie waar is nie is besluite geneem waardeur besware verkeerdlik afgewys is.	4.1.1.3 References to church polity principles in the assignment as well as in the Report of the 'Commission Church polity' without those principles being pointed, out boils down to information that is not true. With information that is not true the impression is created that the petitions of protest were judged in the light of church polity principles. Information that is not true also led to objections being wrongfully overruled.
4.1.2 Onwaar-informasie : Algemene opmerkings	4.1.2 Untrue Information : General Comments
4.1.2.1 Die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' maak algemene opmerkings in 'n Rapport wat 4 (vier) keer aan die afgevaardigdes deur die GKSA na die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode in 2016 voorgelê word (Acta 2016:66-68, C 3; 78-80, K 3; 97-99, I 3; 130-132, E 3). Informasie wat nie waar is nie kom in die Rapport na vore.	4.1.2.1 The 'Commission Church polity' comments in general terms in its report. The Report is submitted no less than 4 (four) times to delegates of the GKSA in the Extraordinary General Synod in 2016 (Acta 2016:66-68, C 3; 78-80, K 3; 97-99, I 3; 130-132, E 3). Information that is not true is represented in this Report.
4.1.2.2 Die beswaar dat die Sinode nie in gehoorsaamheid aan die Skrif 'n keuse tussen die twee opsies kon maak nie, word deur die Kommissie in 'n opmerking afgemaak as vals – 'n opmerking wat in sigself onwaar is (Acta 2016:66-67; 78; 98; 130, 3.2). Die waarheid is dat daar geen Skrifgronde vir die keuse gegee is nie. Beide die Kommissie en die 2016-besluite bly in gebreke om Skrifgronde in en vir die 2009-besluit aan te dui.	4.1.2.2 The protest, that the Synod in 2009 could not have made a choice between the two options in obedience to Scripture, is rejected by the Commission as false – a claim that is invalid ((Acta 2016:66-67; 78; 98; 130, 3.2). The rejection is untrue. The truth is that no Scriptural grounds for the choice were disclosed. The Commission and the 2016-decisions fail to indicate any Scriptural grounds in and for the 2009 decision.
4.1.2.3 Die stelling dat die Sinode onder leiding van die Gees die korrekte keuse gemaak het, kom neer op	4.1.2.3 The statement that Synod made the correct choice under the guidance of the Holy Spirit boils

informatie wat nie waar is nie (Acta 2016:66-67; 78; 98; 130, 3.2). Indien die stelling waar is, sou dit beteken dat alle besluite wat deur afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in Sinodes geneem word, korrek is, want die besluite is onder leiding van die Heilige Gees geneem. Talle Bewaarskrifte en Appèlle oor die jare bevestig dat dit nie waar is nie – baie verkeerde besluite is oor jare heen geneem.	down to information that is not true (Acta 2016:66-67; 78; 98; 130, 3.2). If this statement were to be correct, it would imply that all decisions taken by delegates of GKSA in major assemblies are correct, as such decisions are taken under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Numerous Petitions of protest and appeals over the years testify to the fact that this is not true – many wrong decisions have been made in the past.
4.1.2.4 Verkeerde kerklike besluite, besluite wat valse gesag bedien kan nie aan die leiding van die Heilige Gees, die Gees van waarheid (Joh 14:17) toegeskryf word nie. Hoekom die Gees verkeerde besluite in die kerk toelaat, is moeilik te beantwoord, maar dit gebeur.	4.1.2.4 Incorrect ecclesiastic decisions, decisions that administer false authority, cannot be ascribed to the guidance of the Holy Spirit, the Spirit of Truth (Joh 14:17). It is difficult to explain why the Holy Spirit allows incorrect decisions in the church, but it happens.
4.1.2.5 Die aanspraak dat die leiding van die Gees sou beteken dat die 2009-besluit die korrekte besluit is, is nie die volle waarheid nie. ‘n Halwe waarheid kom neer op ‘n onwaarheid. Die Kommissie verswyg ‘n belangrike waarheid ten opsigte van die kerklike besluitnemingsproses. Die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA wat besluite in meerdere vergaderings neem is een en almal feilbare sondaarmense. Verkeerde besluite word geneem want mense is betrokke in die besluitnemingsproses. “Alle mense is immers uit hulleself leuenaars en nietiger as die nietigheid self (Ps 62:10)” (NGB, art 7). Omdat feilbare mense die 2009-besluit geneem het, kan daar nie – soos die Kommissie beweer – aanspraak gemaak word dat die korrekte besluit onder leiding van die Gees geneem is nie.	4.1.2.5 The claim that the guidance by the Holy Spirit implies that the 2009-decision was the correct decision, is not the full truth of the matter. A half truth is in fact an untruth. The Commission remains silent about an important truth in ecclesiastic decision-making. The delegates of the GKSA taking decisions in major assemblies are one and all fallible, sinful human beings. Incorrect decisions are made due to human beings being involved in the decision-making process. “For all human beings are liars by nature and more vain than vanity itself (Ps 62:10)” (BC, Art 7). Due to fallible human beings being involved in the 2009-decision, the claim cannot be made, as the Commission did, that the correct decision was made under the guidance of the Holy Spirit.
4.1.2.6 Die feilbaarheid van sondaarmense maak dit soveel meer noodsaaklik dat geldige begroning in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde vir kerklike besluite gegee word. Kerklike besluite wat duidelik Skrifgegrond is, kan voorgehou word as besluite waarvan gesê kan word: ‘die Heilige Gees en ons het besluit’ (Hand 15:15-18, 28; Du Plooy 1979:94). Sonder enige Skrifbe-	4.1.2.6 The very fallibility of sinful human beings necessitates valid ecclesiastic decisions being founded on Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order. Ecclesiastic decisions clearly founded on Scripture can be presented as decisions of which it can be said: ‘the Holy Spirit and we have decided’ (Acts 15:28; Du Plooy 1979:94) In the absence of any

gronding kan die aanspraak, dat 'n korrekte besluit onder leiding van die Gees geneem is, moeilik aanvaar word. Omdat daar geen Skrifbegroning in en vir die 2009-besluit gegee is nie, kan die betoog van die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik', dat die korrekte besluit onder leiding van die Gees geneem is, nie as waar aanvaar word nie.	Scriptural foundation, it is most difficult to accept the claim that the correct decision was made under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Due to the lack of Scriptural foundation for the 2009-decision, the claim by the 'Commission Church polity' – that the correct decision was taken under the guidance of the Holy spirit, cannot be accepted as true.
4.1.2.7 Die bewering deur die Kommissie (Acta 2016:67, 79, 98, 131, 3.6) dat sommige beswaardes bewyse van die Sinode vra om die 'status quo' te handhaaf kom neer op informasie wat nie waar is nie. Die Kommissie gebruik die begrip 'status quo' (Acta 2016:67, 79, 98, 131, 3.6). Geeneen van die Beswaarskrifte gebruik die begrip nie.	4.1.2.7 The allegation by the Commission (Acta 2016:67, 79, 98, 131, 3.6) that some of the aggrieved petitioners require proof from Synod to maintain the 'status quo', boils down to information that is not true. The Commission employs the concept "status quo" (Acta 2016:67, 79, 98, 131, 3.6). None of the Petitioners use the concept.
4.1.2.8 Die bewering deur die Kommissie (Acta 2016:69, 4.3.1.3; 70, 4.4.1.2; 100, 4.1.2.2 en 4.1.2.4; 133, 4.2.6.1 en 4.2.8.1) dat besluitneming in die saak daaroor gaan om die 'status quo' te handhaaf kom neer op informasie wat nie waar is nie. Besluitneming deur die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode in 2009 oor die saak van die vrou in besondere dienste gaan nie daaroor om die 'status quo' te handhaaf of nie. Die 2009-besluit word geneem in die lig van 'n opdrag wat deur die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode 2009 aan 'n Kommissie gegee is. Die Kommissie het by die voortsetting van die Sinode oor die saak gerapporteer (Acta 2009:582, 3). In die opdrag aan die Kommissie en in hulle Rapport is nie sprake daarvan om die 'status quo' te handhaaf nie. Besluitneming in die saak om bloot die 'status quo' te handhaaf word afgewys omdat dit die indruk sal skep dat daar bloot aan tradisies vasgehou word (Acta 2009:667, 3.3).	4.1.2.8 The assertion by the Commission (Acta 2016:69, 4.3.1.3; 70, 4.4.1.2; 100, 4.1.2.2 and 4.1.2.4; 133, 4.2.6.1 en 4.2.8.1), that decision in the matter was sought in order to maintain the 'status quo', boils down to information that is not true. Deciding over the matter of women serving in the particular services by delegates of the GKSA in the General Synod in 2009, did not involve maintaining the 'status quo.' The 2009-decision was taken in pursuance of an assignment given to a Commission by the delegates from the GKSA in the General Synod 2009. This Commission reported back when the Synod continued (Acta 2009:582, 3). Neither in the assignment to the Commission, nor in their Report is there any mention of maintaining the 'status quo'. A decision to merely maintain the 'status quo' is rejected as it would give the impression that traditions were merely being adhered to (Acta 2009:667, 3.3).
4.1.2.9 Van die opmerkings van die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' oor besluite en KO, art 31 kom neer op informasie wat nie waar is nie. Die gebruik van KO, art 31 om die	4.1.2.9 Some of the comments of the 'Commission Church polity' concerning decisions and CO, art 31, boil down to information that is not true. The employment of CO,

gesag van besluite deur 'n Sinode te bekragtig (Acta 2016:68; 80; 99; 131, 3.13 en 3.14), kom neer op 'n halwe waarheid. 'n Halwe waarheid is 'n onwaarheid. Die doel van KO, art 31 is om kerklike besluite wat die reg krenk by wyse van Appèl nietig te verklaar. Die artikel gee nie gesag aan kerklike besluite nie, maar beskerm die gesag van die besluite. Die Skrif gee gesag aan besluite. Daarom moet duidelike bewyse in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde gegee word om 'n besluit nietig te verklaar.	art 31 to confirm the authority of decisions by a Synod (Acta 2016:68; 80; 99; 131, 3.13 and 3.14) is a half-truth. A half-truth constitutes a falsehood. The very purpose of CO, art 31 is to declare unjust church decisions, null and void by means of appeal proceedings. This article does not bestow authority on ecclesiastical decisions, but it protects the authority of the decisions. Scripture gives authority to decisions. For that very reason, clear evidence from Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order has to be put forward in order to declare a decision null and void.
4.1.2.10 Die Kommissie wys tereg daarop dat beswaardes in die lig van KO, art 31 bewyse in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde moet gee om die verandering van 'n besluit te motiveer (Acta 2016:68, 79-80, 99, 131, 3.12 en 3.13; 100, 4.1.2.3; 133, 4.2.5.1). MAAR die bewering dat, in die lig van KO, art 31 dit nie vir 'n meerdere vergadering nodig is om sodanige bewys te lewer nie (Acta 2016:68; 80; 99; 131, 3.13; 100, 4.1.2.3; 133, 4.2.5.1) is nie waar nie.	4.1.2.10 The Commission justifiably indicates that aggrieved parties have to provide evidence from Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order, to justify an amendment to an ecclesiastic decision (Acta 2016:68, 79-80, 99, 131, 3.12 en 3.13; 100, 4.1.2.3; 133, 4.2.5.1). HOWEVER, the observation that, pursuant to CO, art 31, major assemblies need not render such evidence (Acta 2016:68; 80; 99; 131, 3.13; 100, 4.1.2.3; 133, 4.2.5.1), is not true.
4.1.2.11 Bewyslewing (KO, art 31) in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde om 'n besluit te verander veronderstel dat die besluit, wat gewysig staan te word, in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde geneem is. KO, art 31 kan nie los van die ander artikels van die Kerkorde toegepas word nie. Die bepalinge in KO, art 31 veronderstel dat kerklike sake op 'n kerklike wyse (KO, art 30) hanteer word. Die kerklike wyse waarop sake hanteer word, word onder andere in KO, art 33 gereël. Kerke vaardig af na meerdere vergaderings. Kerke gee aan afgevaardigdes na meerdere vergaderings die volmag (KO, art 33) om oor alle sake in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde te oordeel en te besluit. Alleen	4.1.2.11 The submission of evidence (CO art 31) from Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order to alter a church decision, presupposes that the decision was taken in the light of Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order. CO, art 31 cannot be applied in isolation from the rest of the provisions of the Church Order. The stipulations of CO, art 31 presuppose that church matters are handled in an ecclesiastic manner (CO, art 30). The ecclesiastic manner in which matters should be handled is regulated inter alia in CO, art 33. Churches send delegates to major assemblies. Church delegates receive power of attorney (CO, art 33) to judge and decide in obedience to Scripture, the

besluite, wat nie met die mandaat – soos die geloofsbrief aangedui – in stryd is nie, word deur die kerke as vas en bindend aanvaar.
4.1.2.12 Besluite deur afgevaardigdes van die GKSA na meerdere vergaderings, wat in Skrifbegronde en gemotiveer is, is vas en bindend vir die kerke. Daarom kan en moet kerke vra vir grondige motivering van alle kerklike besluite in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde. Die bewering deur die Kommissie dat meerdere vergaderings nie Skrifmotivering vir besluite moet aandui nie, is nie waar nie maar vals (KO, art 33). Afgevaardigdes deur die GKSA na meerdere vergaderings moet erns maak dat daar geldige gronde in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde vir besluite gegee word. Indien sodanige begroning/motivering ontbreek, bedien die besluite valse gesag.	4.1.2.12 Confession and the Church Order, in alle matters before the major assembly. As the letter of credence indicates, only decisions which do not contradict the mandate, are considered by the churches to be fixed and binding. 4.1.2.12 Decisions which are duly founded on Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order, and are taken by delegates of the GKSA in major assemblies, are fixed and binding for the churches. That is why churches may and should require sound justification in the light of Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order, for all ecclesiastical decisions. The observation by the Commission that major assemblies do not have to render Scriptural justification for their decisions, is false (CO, art 33). Delegates sent to major assemblies by the GKSA must ensure that valid justification from Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order be supplied for decisions. In the event of such decisions lacking the said justification, the decisions administer false authority.
4.1.2.13 Die bewering deur die ‘Kommissie Kerkregtelik’ dat die afgevaardigdes van die Gereformeerde Kerke na die Algemene Sinode 2015 besluit het dat die saak rondom die vrou ‘n wesentlike saak is (Acta 2016, 68; 80; 99; 131, 3/14), kom neer op informasie wat nie waar is nie. Dit is opvallend en veel-seggend dat geen verwysing na die besluit gegee word nie. Die Notule en die Handeling (Acta 2015) gee geen besluit waarin gesê word dat die saak van die vrou in die besondere dienste, ‘n wesentlike saak is nie. Bewyslewing hieroor word in ‘n Beskrywingspunt vanaf Streeksinode Randvaal by die Algemene Sinode 2018 gemaak.	4.1.2.13 The allegation by the ‘Commission: church polity’ that delegates from the Reformed Churches to the General Synod 2015 decided that the matter surrounding women constituted an essential matter, (Acta 2016, 68; 80; 99; 131, 3/14), boils down to information that is not true. The lack of any reference to the so-called decision is both conspicuous and significant. Neither the Minutes, nor the Acts (Acta 2015) supply a decision that the matter of women in the particular offices constitutes an essential matter. A full discussion of this issue is set out in a Point of description submitted by Regional Synod Randvaal to the General Synod 2018.

Twee teenoorgestelde aanvaarbare opsies het in die lig van die Skrif hieruit voortgespruit (Acta 2009:664, 10.15; 667, 4). Die twee teenoorgestelde opsies bevestig dat die saak nie wesentlik is nie. Die Skrif laat ruimte vir verskille. In die lig van die Skrif kan een dag vir 'n gelowige belangriker wees as ander dae en in die lig van die Skrif kan al die dae vir 'n ander gelowige ewe belangrik wees (Rom 14:5). Sake waarin die Skrif ruimte laat vir verskille, is nie-wesentlike sake. Die twee verskillende teenoorgestelde opsies ten opsigte van vroue in die besondere dienste, wat beide op geldige en aanvaarbare Skrifverklaring berus, bevestig dat die geslag van die bedienaar in die besondere dienste, nie 'n wesentlik saak is nie. 4.2 Motivering 2 : Beswaargrond 4 – Onwaar-informasie : Beoordeling van besware  Informasie wat nie waar is nie en wat by die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode in 2016 na vore kom in die beoordeling van beswaargrond 4 lei tot besluite waardeur besware verkeerdlik afgewys is. 4.2.1 Besluit : Beswaarskrif van die GK Bloemfontein-Suid (Acta 2016:50-61) 4.2.1.1 Die volgende bevinding word gemaak oor beswaargrond 3 van die GK Bloemfontein-Suid (Acta 2016:59, 2.10): “Die Skrifverklaring waarop die besluit van 2009 rus het duidelik Skrifgronde en verreken die reëls van Skrifverklaring deeglik en konsekwent”. 4.2.1.2 Hierdie bevinding is nie waar nie. Two acceptable opposing viewpoints based on Scripture arose from this study (Acta 2009:664, 10.15; 667, 4). It is submitted that the two resulting viewpoints confirm that the matter is non-essential. Scripture allows for differences. In the light of Scripture, one day may be of greater importance to a believer than other days, as also in the light of Scripture, all days may be equally important to another believer (Rom 14:5). Matters, in which Scripture allows room for differences, are non-essential matters. The two different opposing options concerning women in the particular offices, equally founded in valid and acceptable exegesis of Scripture, serve to confirm that the gender of the servant in the particular offices is non-essential. 4.2 Justification 2: Ground of Objection 4 – Untrue Information : Adjudication of protests  Information that is not true, which was brought to bear on the adjudication of grounds of objection at the Extraordinary General Synod in 2016 resulted in decisions that wrongly rejected these objections. 4.2.1 Resolution : Petition of protest by the GK Bloemfontein-Suid (Acta 2016:50-61) 4.2.1.1 The following conclusion is reached concerning ground of objection 3 of the GK Bloemfontein-Suid (Acta 2016:59, 2.10): “The exposition upon which the decision of 2009 is based, has clear Scriptural foundation and takes the rules of Scriptural exposition into account in a thorough and consistent manner” 4.2.1.2 This conclusion boils down to information that is not true. Skrifgronde is word nie aangedui nie en dit kan ook nie aangedui word nie. Geen Skrifmotivering is vir die 2009-besluit, wat die NEE-opsie gekies het, gegee nie. Van al die Skrifgetuienis wat in die Rapport na vore kom (Acta 2009:611-664, 10), word kennis geneem (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). 'Kennis neem' beteken dat die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode in 2009 nie die Skrifgetuienis in die Rapport vir hulle rekening neem nie. Omdat daar slegs kennis geneem is van die verskillende teenoorgestelde geloofwaardige en houdbare ekse-gese van verskillende Skrifgedeeltes in die Rapport, gee dit nie en kan dit nie Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit gee nie.	Scriptural grounds and exposition. Whatever the grounds are, they are not indicated and cannot be indicated. No justification from Scripture is supplied for the 2009-decision to choose the NO-option. All the Scriptural evidence which appeared in the Report (Acta 2009:611-664, 10), is duly noted (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). Having merely noted that evidence means that the delegates of the GKSA in the General Synod in 2009 did not accept the Scriptural evidence for their own account. Because the different valid and acceptable exegeses of several texts from Scripture in the Report were merely noted, no Scriptural justification for the decision arises or can arise from it.
4.2.1.3 In die lig van die bevinding wat valslik die indruk skep dat die 2009-besluit op duidelike Skrifgronde berus word verkeerdelik besluit dat beswaargrond 3 nie slaag nie (Acta 2016:59, 2.11).	4.2.1.3 In the light of the conclusion which falsely creates the impression that the 2009-decision is based on clear Scriptural grounds, it is wrongly decided that ground of objection 3 does not succeed (Acta 2016:59, 2.11).
4.2.2 Besluite : Beswaarskrif van die GK Klerksdorp (Acta 2016:62-70)	4.2.2 Decisions : Petition of protest of GK Klerksdorp (Acta 2016:62-70)
4.2.2.1 Die beswaar (Acta 2016:63, 3.1) dat die 2009-besluit nie in gehoorsaamheid aan die Skrif geneem is nie, word afgemaak as ongeldig – 'n beoordeling wat self nie waar is nie (Acta 2016:68, 4.1).	4.2.2.1 The objection (Acta 2016:63, 3.1) that the 2009-decision was not taken in obedience to Scripture is rejected on the basis that it is false. This rejection is invalid (Acta 2016:68, 4.1).
4.2.2.2 Die stelling dat die 2009-besluit op die Skrifgegewens in die Rapport gegrond is, is nie waar nie (Acta 2016:69, 4.2.1.1). Van al die Skrifgetuienis wat in die Rapport na vore kom (Acta 2009:611-664, 10) – word kennis geneem (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). Die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' bevestig self dat die informasie nie waar is nie deur daarop te wys dat deur kennis te neem die vergadering die inhoud van die Rapport nie vir sy rekening neem nie (Acta 2016:67, 3.8). Omdat daar slegs kennis geneem is van die verskillende teenoorgestelde geloofwaardige en houdbare ekse-gese van verskillende Skrifgedeeltes in die Rapport, gee dit nie en kan dit	4.2.2.2 The statement that the 2009-decision is based on the Scriptural material in the report is not true. Of all the Scriptural material in the Report (Acta 2009:611-664, 10), mere notice is taken (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). The 'Commission Church polity' itself confirms this information is not true by pointing out that by merely taking note, the assembly does not adopt the Report for its own account (Acta 2016:67, 3.8). Because the different valid and acceptable exegeses of various Scriptural texts in the report, were merely noted, that material cannot serve as Scriptural justification for the 2009-decision.

nie Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit gee nie. 4.2.2.3 In die lig van informasie wat nie waar is nie word valslik die indruk geskep dat daar Skrifgronde vir die 2009-besluit is. In die lig hiervan word verkeerdlik aanbeveel en besluit dat hierdie beswaargrond nie slaag nie (Acta 2016:69, 4.2.2.1). 4.2.2.4 Die beswaar (Acta 2016:64-65, 3), dat die 2009-besluit sonder enige Skrifmotivering vir een van twee opsies wat in lig van die Skrif moontlik is kies, word met informasie wat nie waar is nie afgewys. 4.2.2.5 Die Kommissie bevraagteken die twee opsies en twee Skrif-interpretasies waartussen die afgevaardigdes in die 2009-besluit moes kies (Acta 2016:69, 4.3.1.1). Volgens die Kommissie is daar net EEN en daarvoor is gekies. Die Kommissie se weergawe van die 2009-besluit is nie waar nie. In die Rapport (Acta 2009:664, 10.15) en in die aanbeveling van die Advieskommissie (Acta 2009:667, 4.2) is daar twee opsies gegrond op twee aanvaarbare Skrif-interpretasies. Die 2009-besluit beteken volgens die Kommissie dat een interpretasie as korrek aanvaar en die ander een as verkeerd afgewys is. Die afleiding, waarvoor geen motivering gegee is nie, is vals. Die 2009-besluit beteken nie dat al die Skrifgetuienis wat die NEE-opsie ondersteun as korrek aanvaar en dat al die Skrifgetuienis wat die JA-opsie ondersteun as foutief verwerp is nie. Oor al die Skrifgetuienis vir die JA- en NEE-opsies is reeds besluit: KENNIS GENEEM (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). Om 'n keuse te maak tussen twee verskillende teenoorgestelde opsies wat op geloofwaardige en houdbare ekse-gese berus sou beteken dat daar genoegsame Skrifgetuienis is om vir een van die twee opsies te kies. Sodanige Skrifgetuienis bestaan nie en is nie in 2009 voorgelê vir oorweging in die besluitneming nie.	4.2.2.3 In the light of information that is not true the false impression is created that the 2009-decision is based on Scriptural grounds. Pursuing this false impression, it is wrongly decided that this ground of objection does not succeed (Acta 2016:69, 4.2.2.1). 4.2.2.4 The objection (Acta 2016:64-65, 3) that the 2009-decision chooses between two options, both of which are possible in the light of Scripture, is rejected on the basis of information that is not true. 4.2.2.5 The Commission questions the two options and the two Scriptural expositions between which the delegates had to choose in the 2009-decision (Acta 2016:69, 4.3.1.1). According to the Commission there is only ONE option and that was chosen. The Commission's version of the 2009-decision is not truthful. In the Report (Acta 2009:664, 10.15) and in the recommendation of the Advisory Commission (Acta 2009:667, 4.2) there are two options; a choice between two acceptable and valid Scriptural expositions. According to the Commission, the 2009-decision accepts one interpretation as correct, and repudiates the other option as incorrect. This conclusion, for which no justification is presented, is false. The 2009-decision did not accept all the Scriptural evidence in favour of the NO-option as correct nor did it reject all the Scriptural evidence in favour of the YES-option as incorrect. In fact the decision about Scriptural evidence both for the YES- and NO-options was already made: NOTED (Acta 2009:665, 12.10.1). In order to affect a choice between two different options, both of which are founded on valid and acceptable Scriptural exegesis, one supposes that satisfactory Scriptural evidence is available to support the choice of one out of the two options. Such Scriptural

4.2.2.9 Die stelling deur die Kommissie dat Skrifmotivering vir 2009-besluit gegee word deur die ondersteunde Skrifgegewens van die opsie wat gekies is, is nie waar nie. Omdat daar geen Skrifmotivering vir die 2009-besluit gegee is nie, word gewetens deur die 2009-besluit met die valse gesag van die meerderheidstem gebind. 4.2.3.5 Die beswaar (Acta 2016:74, 5.3.3.2) dat die 2009-besluit sekere Skrifopdragte lukraak met Sinodale gesag op gelowige vroue afgedwing word, word sonder geldige bewysvoering verkeerdlik afgewys (Acta 2016:81, 4.2.2.1). 4.2.3.6 Informasie ten opsigte van die valse gesag van die kollegialisme is reeds uitgewys in C. 3.1. as nie waar nie. 4.2.3.7 Die Kommissie se stelling dat Presbiteriale kerkregering afgevaardigdes van die kerke verbind om besluite in meerdere vergaderings op grond van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde te neem, is waar. Die stelling word gemaak in die beoordeling van 'n beswaar teen die 2009-besluit. Hiermee word die valse indruk geskep dat die 2009-besluit op grond van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde geneem is. Die 2009-besluit is nie op grond van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde geneem nie. Aangesien Skrif- Belydenis- en Kerkorde-begroning vir die 2009-besluit ontbreek is die beswaar waar. Met Sinodale gesag, met valse gesag van die kollegialisme word een Skrif-opdrag op lidmate afgedwing. Daarom is beswaargrond 4 op hierdie punt, verkeerdlik afgewys (Acta 2016:81, 4.2.2.1).	Because the 2009-decision lacks Scriptural justification, consciences are constrained by the false authority of the majority vote. 4.2.3.5 The objection (Acta 2016:74, 5.3.3.2) entails that the 2009-decision randomly forces certain Scriptural injunctions upon believing women by means of Synodical authority. This objection is wrongly rejected without any justification (Acta 2016:81, 4.2.2.1). 4.2.3.6 Information regarding the false authority of collegialism has already been pointed out above in C.3.1. as an untruth. 4.2.3.7 The statement by the Commission that Presbyterian church governance compels delegates to take decisions in major assemblies on grounds of Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order, is true. This statement is made in the adjudication of an objection against the 2009-decision. So doing, the false impression is created that the 2009-decision is taken on the grounds of Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order. However, the 2009-decision was not based on Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order. The objection is consequently quite valid. At the hand of Synodical authority, at the hand of the false authority of collegialism, a single Scriptural injunction is forced upon church members. Ground of objection 4 was wrongly rejected on this point (Acta 2016:81, 4.2.2.1).

4.3.1.2	Die nodige begroning vir besluite wat die kerke as vas en bindend aanvaar en waarop die kerke onderling ooreengekom het (KO, art 33) ontbreek. Geen Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkordelike-begroning is vir die 2009-besluit gegee nie.	4.3.1.2	The necessary foundation, which the churches agreed on (CO, art 33) for decisions to be fixed and binding is lacking. No justification from Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order was submitted for the 2009 decision.
4.3.1.3	Die Sinode het die besluit met meerderheid van stemme geneem.	4.3.1.3	The Synod took the decision by majority-vote.
4.3.1.4	Nie al die kerke, wat deur afvaardiging by die Algemene Sinode in 2009 teenwoordig was, het vir die NEE-opsie gestem nie. Op hierdie kerke word die 2009-besluit met valse gesag van die kollegialisme (Sinode het besluit) en die demokrasie (stem van die meerderheid) as vas en bindend afgedwing.	4.3.1.4	Not all churches represented by delegation at the 2009 General Synod voted for the NO-option. These are the churches upon whom the 2009-decision is imposed by the false authority of collegialism (Synod decided) and democracy (majority vote) as if the decision is fixed and binding.
4.3.2	2016-besluite : Valse gesag afdwing	4.3.2	2016-decisions : Enforcing false authority
4.3.2.1	In die Rapport van die 'Kommissie Kerkregtelik' word daar gewaarsku teen die kollegialistiese siening dat die Sinode besluite neem en af forseer (Acta 2016:67; 79; 99; 131, 3.10).	4.3.2.1	The Report of the 'Commission Church polity' warns against the collegialistic view that Synods make and enforce decisions (Acta 2016:67; 79; 99;131, 3.10).
4.3.2.2	Tereg sê die Kommissie dat die Gereformeerde Kerke in ooreenstemming met die Presbiteriale kerkregering saam, op grond van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde, besluite neem.	4.3.2.2	The Commission states, correctly so, that the Reformed Churches make decisions, in accordance with Presbyterial church governance, on the basis of Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order.
4.3.2.3	Die opmerkings word gemaak in die beoordeling van besware teen die 2009-besluit.	4.3.2.3	These remarks by the Commission are made in the course of evaluating objections against the 2009-decision.
4.3.2.4	Hiermee skep die Kommissie valslik die indruk dat die 2009-besluit op grond van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde geneem is.	4.3.2.4	Hereby the Commission creates the false impression that the 2009-decision is founded upon Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order.

Die bede is dat daar inkeer sal kom sodat ons in eenheid van Woord en Gees saam kan vergader”. 4.3.3.1.1 Informasie wat nie waar is nie kom in die Beskrywingspunt en sy motivering voor. 4.3.3.1.2 Valslik word die 1988-besluit oor die saak van die vrou in die besondere dienste as steeds geldend en daarom as vas en bindend voorgelê. Die Klassis en die Beskrywingspunt gee geen verwysing na die 1988-besluit nie. In 1988 het die afgevaardigdes deur die GKSA in die Nasionale Sinode besluit dat vroue nie in die besondere dienste van predikant, ouderling en diaken mag dien nie (Acta 1988:522, 3.7.3). Streeksinode Bosveld het in ‘n Beswaarskrif betoog dat die 1988-besluit nog steeds vas en bindend is (Acta 2006:409-412, 20.1). ‘n Besluit deur die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Algemene Sinode in 2009 het bevestig dat die betoog van Streeksinode Bosveld nie waar is nie (Acta 2009:563-581,	the majority-vote. On this same basis, the decision is forced upon the churches. 4.3.3 Decisions by Classes : Enforcing false authority Decisions by Classis Pretoria Moot on 12 April 2016 (Acta 2016, 6.1) and by Classis Noordwes on 13 September 2016 (Acta 2016, 7, art 11) confirm that the 2009-decision is being enforced upon the churches with false authority. 4.3.3.1 Decision : Classis Pretoria Moot The Classis Pretoria Moot decided to adopt the following Point of description. 1. Point of Discussion (Free translation from Afrikaans) “With sadness, we hereby place on record that churches that ordain or have ordained women as ministers or as elders in defiance of decisions by National and General Synods of 1988, 2009 and 2016, separates them de facto by doing so, from the other churches in our denomination as GKSA. Our prayer is that the guilty shall repent so that we may assemble in true unity of Word and Spirit”. 4.3.3.1.1 Information that is not true appears in this Point of description and its justification. 4.3.3.1.2 The 1988-decision concerning the matter of women in the particular services of the church is falsely presented as if it is still valid and consequently remains fixed and binding. No reference to the 1988-decision is supplied either by the Classis or in the Point of description. In 1988 the delegates of the GKSA in the National Synod decided that women may not serve in the particular services of ministers, elders or deacons (Acta 1988:522, 3.7.3). In a Petition of protest, the Regional Synod Bosveld argued that the 1988 decision was still fixed and binding (Acta 2006:409-412, 20.1). However, the delegates of the GKSA, assembled in the General Synod in 2009,

21.13). Die 1988-besluit is ordelik gewysig en oopgestel vir verdere besluitneming (KO, art 46).
4.3.3.1.3 Die Klassis Pretoria Moot en die Beskrywingspunt wat deur hulle aanvaar is, gee geen aanduiding vir die besluit in 2016 waarna verwys word nie. Valslik word die indruk geskep dat die afgevaardigdes van die GKSA in die Buitengewone Algemene Sinode in 2016 besluit het dat vroue nie in die besondere dienste van predikante en ouderlinge mag dien nie. So 'n besluit word nie in die Handeling (Acta 2016) gevind nie.	4.3.3.1.3 The Classis Pretoria Moot and the Point of description that was accepted by them do not identify the decision in 2016 that is referred to. A false impression is thus created as if the delegates of the GKSA, in the Extraordinary General Synod in 2016 decided that women may not serve in the particular services of ministers and of elders. A decision to this effect cannot be found in the acta (Acta 2016).
4.3.3.1.4 Die Beskrywingspunt bedien, in stryd met die Presbiteriale kerkregering en die bepalings van die Kerkorde, die valse hoogmoedige gesag van kollegialisme.	4.3.3.1.4 The said Point of description administers the false and high-minded authority of collegialism.
4.3.3.1.5 Met die aanvaarding van die Beskrywingspunt het die afgevaardigdes van 'n paar kerke in Klassis Pretoria Moot 'n besluit oor ander kerke en namens ander kerke geneem. In Presbiteriale kerkregering is 'n besluit deur afgevaardigdes in 'n meerdere vergadering bindend vir die kerke wat in die vergadering verteenwoordig is.	4.3.3.1.5 Having adopted the Point of description, the delegates from a number of churches in Classis Pretoria Moot, in fact took a decision on behalf of and about other churches. According to precepts of Presbyterian church governance, a decision by delegates in a major assembly is binding for the churches represented in the assembly.
4.3.3.1.6 Met die aanvaarding van die genoemde Beskrywingspunt word daar probeer om die valse gesag wat die 2009-besluit bedien – soos beswaargronde 1, 2, 3 en 4 van die Beswaarskrif aantoon – met valse gesag op kerke af te dwing. Die besluit verhef, in stryd met die Belydenis (NGB, artt 28 en 29) die gehoorsame nakoming van Sinodebesluite tot voorwaarde vir kerk-eenheid.	4.3.3.1.6 The adoption of the said Point of description is an attempt to enforce the false authority administered by the 2009-decision – as witnessed by grounds of objection 1, 2, 3 and 4 of this Petition of protest – upon the churches. The decision elevates, in contradiction to the Confession (BC, arts 28 and 29) the obedient observance of Synodical decisions as a condition for church unity.
4.3.3.1.7 Die Beskrywingspunt en die besluit om dit te aanvaar is in stryd met die weg van Matteus 18 en die bepalings van die Kerkorde (artt 31 en 46) om kerklike besluite ordelik te skrap of te wysig. Die besluit	4.3.3.1.7 The Point of description and the said decision adopting it are both in conflict with the way indicated in Mathew 18 and the Church Order (CO, arts 31 and 46) to orderly annul or amend eccle-

toon dat daar nie, met die kerke wat deur die besluite veroordeel en afgesny word, kontak gemaak is nie. Die kerke word onregverdig, sonder om gehoor te word, veroordeel. 4.3.3.1.8 Die Beskrywingspunt wil kerke valslik dwing om die 2009-besluit gehoorsaam na te kom. Kerke word, in stryd met KO, artt 31 en 46, die reg ontnem om die 2009-besluit te wysig of te skrap. 4.3.3.1.9 Informasie wat nie waar is nie kom in die motivering van die Beskrywingspunt voor. Valslik word beweer dat die in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde besluit het dat vroue nie as predikante en ouderlinge mag dien nie. Nie die Klassis of die Beskrywingspunt gee enige verwysing na Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkordelike-begroning vir so 'n besluit, vir die 2009-besluit nie (Acta 2009:667, 4). 4.3.3.1.9.1 Die 2009-besluit, wat sonder enige Skrif-, Belydenis- of Kerkordelike begroning vir die NEE-opsie kies, word verabsoluteer. 4.3.3.1.9.2 Die waarheid waartoe jarelange Skrifstudie gekom het, word verswyg (Acta 2009:583-664). Die waarheid is dat daar in die lig van die Skrif 2 (twee) opsies is oor die vrou in die besondere dienste. In die lig van die Skrif is daar 'n geldige en aanvaarbare gevolgtrekking gemaak dat vroue in die besondere dienste mag dien (Acta 2009:664, 10.15.1a). 4.3.3.1.9.3 Geen geldige motivering is gegee waarom daar in die 2009-besluit vir die een opsie en nie vir die ander opsie gekies is nie. Die feit dat daar in die lig van die Skrif twee geldige opsies is beteken, dat 'n keuse	siastical decisions. The decision bears witness to the fact that no contact was made with churches that, by this decision, are condemned and excommunicated. These churches are unjustly condemned without being heard. 4.3.3.1.8 The Point of description falsely coerces churches into obeying the 2009-decision. In conflict with CO, arts 31 and 46, churches are deprived of the right to have the 2009-decision amended or deleted. 4.3.3.1.9 Information that is not true appears in the justification of the Point of description. It is falsely alleged that delegates of the GKSA decided, in accordance with Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order that women may not serve in the particular offices of ministers and elders. Neither the Classis nor the Point of description identifies any grounds from Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order to justify the 2009-decision (Acta 2009:667, 4). 4.3.3.1.9.1 The 2009-decision is, in spite of the absence of justification based on Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order, singled out and raised to an absolute truth in itself. 4.3.3.1.9.2 No mention is made regarding the truth gained by extensive studies of Scripture over many years (Acta 2009:583-664). The truth is that in the light of Scripture there are to 2 (two) options regarding women in the particular offices. One of these is the valid and acceptable conclusion in the light of Scripture, that women may serve in the particular offices (Acta 2009:664, 10.15.1a). 4.3.3.1.9.3 No valid justification was supplied for the choice made by the 2009-decision, in favour of one option and not for the other. Die veralgemening word nie met verwysings bevestig nie. Die beswaargronde van hierdie Beswaarskrif toon aan dat daar besware teen die 2009-besluit is wat duidelik nie op grond van Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde afgewys is nie. 4.3.3.1.11 Die bewering (Klassis Acta 2016: art 6.1, 2.3), dat die kerke in 2015 gesê het die saak van die vrou in die leer- en regeeramp is 'n wesentlike saak, is nie waar nie. Geen verwysing word na die uitspraak of besluit gegee nie. In die Notule en die Handeling van die Algemene Sinode in 2015 is daar nie 'n besluit wat bepaal dat die saak van die vrou – soos weergegee in die motivering van die Beskrywingspunt – in die leer- en regeeramp 'n wesentlik saak is nie. 4.3.3.1.12 Die feit dat daar in die lig van die Skrif 2 (twee) geldige en aanvaarbare gevolgtrekkings gemaak is (Acta 2009:664, 10.15.1a en 10.15.1b) bevestig dat die saak van die vrou in die besondere dienste nie 'n wesentlike saak is nie. Sake waarvoor gelowiges in die lig van die Skrif kan verskil is nie-wesentlike sake nie (Rom 14). Die waarheid word bevestig deur die afgevaardigdes	choose one without any valid justification, boils down to enforcement of the chosen option. 4.3.3.1.9.4 With false authority, one option is enforced, because the choice lacks justification from Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order. 4.3.3.1.10 The very general observation (Classis Acta 2016: art 6.1, 2.2), that objections against the said decisions were all rejected on grounds from Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order, is not true. The truth thereof is not confirmed by any reference at all. The grounds of objection raised in this Petition of protest, indicate that there were objections against the 2009 decision that were clearly rejected without any justification on grounds from Scripture, the Confession or from the Church Order. 4.3.3.1.11 The allegation (Classis Acta 2016: art 6.1, 2.3), that in 2015 the churches found the matter of women serving in the governing services of ministers and of elders to be an essential matter of the faith, is not true. The Minutes and the Acta of the 2015 General Synod contain no decision directing that the matter of women – as represented in the Classis Point of description – serving in the particular offices constitutes an essential matter. 4.3.3.1.12 The fact that Scripture allows for 2 (two) valid and acceptable conclusions (Acta 2009:664, 10.15.1a and 10.15.1b), confirms that the matter of women serving in the particular services is not an essential matter. Matters in which believers may differ in the light of Scripture are non-essential (Rom 14). This truth is confirmed by the delegates of

4.3.3.1.13 Die besluit deur die afgevaardigdes van Gereformeerde Kerke na Klassis Pretoria Moot van 12 April 2016 (Acta:2016, 6.1), om die Beskrywingspunt te aanvaar is in stryd met die mandaat (KO, art 33) wat afgevaardigdes van die plaaslike kerke ontvang het.	4.3.3.1.13 The decision of the delegates of Reformed churches to Classis Pretoria Moot of 12 April 2016 (Acta: 2016, 6.1) to approve this point of description is contrary to the mandate (CO, art 33) received by delegates from the local churches.
4.3.3.1.14 Afgevaardigdes het die mandaat om in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde oor sake te oordeel en te besluit. In die motivering van die Beskrywingspunt word daar verwys na Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde (Klassis Acta 2016: art 6.1, 2.2). Die Beskrywingspunt self en sy motivering gee geen verwysing na die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde-begroning vir die besluit nie.	4.3.3.1.14 Delegates have the mandate to judge and decide on matters in the light of Scripture, Confession and Church Order. The justification of the proposal, refers to Scripture, Confession and Church Order (Classis Acta 2016: art 6.1, 2.2). BUT the Point of description itself and its justification give no own justification for the decision based on Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order.
4.3.3.1.15 Kerke beskou ALLEEN besluite wat in die lig van die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde geneem is as vas en bindend. 4.3.3.1.16 Sonder grondige motivering vir die 2009-besluit en vir die besluit deur die afgevaardigdes in Klassis Pretoria Moot van 12 April 2016 word daar probeer om die besluite, wat valse gesag bedien, met valse gesag op die kerke af te dwing.	4.3.3.1.16 Without proper justification for the 2009-decision and for the decision by delegates in the Pretoria Moot Classis of 12 April 2016, both these decisions attempt to administer false authority and to enforce decisions on the churches with false a authority.

D. SLOT : BESWAARSKRIF

1. Samevatting : Beswaarskrif

- 1.1 Die afgevaardigdes deur die GKSA na die Algemene Sinode in 2009 het in gebreke gebly om motivering te gee vir die besluit (Acta 2009:667, 4) dat vroue nie in die besondere dienste van predikante en ouderlinge mag dien nie. Daardeur het hulle buite hulle mandaat (KO, art 33) opgetree.
- 1.2 Sonder geldige motivering uit die Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde:
  - 1.2.1 bedien die 2009-besluit nie ware gesag nie maar valse gesag;
  - 1.2.2 is die 2009-besluit in die lig van die onderlinge ooreenkoms in KO, art 33, nie vas en bindend vir die kerke nie.
- 1.3 Die beswaargronde in hierdie Beswaar-skrif en hulle motiverings dui aan dat die 2009-besluit valse gesag, en nie die gesag van Christus in gehoorsaamheid aan sy Woord bedien nie.
- 1.4 'n Besluit – soos die 2009-besluit – wat valse gesag bedien, kan nie en en mag nie as vas en bindend op die kerke afgedwing word nie.
- 1.5 In die lig van die feit dat jare se Skrifstudie op grond van houdbare en aanvaarbare Skrifverklaring tot 2 (twee) moontlike opsies in die lig van die Skrif gelei het (Acta 2009:664, 10.16), bevestig dat die saak van die vrou in die besondere dienste nie 'n wesentlike saak is nie. Solank daar nie grondige Skrif-, Belydenis- en Kerkordelike-motivering is om tussen die 2 opsies te kies nie, kan die kerke nie so 'n besluit neem nie.
- 1.6 Die 2016-besluite het op grond van informasie wat nie waar is nie, besware deur kerke teen die 2009-besluit verkeerdlik afgewys. Daardeur word die 2009-besluit deur die 2016-besluite met valse gesag op kerke afgedwing.

D. CONCLUSION : PETITION OF PROTEST

1. Summary : Protest

- 1.1 Delegates of the Reformed churches to the General Synod in 2009 failed to justify the decision (Acta 2009:667, 4) that women may not serve in the particular offices of ministers and elders. So doing, they exceeded their mandate (CO, art 33).
- 1.2 Lacking valid foundation in Scripture, the Confession and the Church Order:
  - 1.2.1 the 2009-decision administers false authority and not true authority;
  - 1.2.2 the 2009-decision, in the light of the mutual agreement in art 33 CO, is not fixed and binding upon the churches;
- 1.3 The grounds of objection set out in this Petition of protest; taken together with their justification, indicate that the 2009-decision administers false authority and not the authority of Christ in obedience to Scripture.
- 1.4 A decision such as that of 2009, that administers false authority cannot and may not be forced upon churches as if it is fixed and binding.
- 1.5 In the light of the fact that years of Bible study and valid and acceptable Scriptural exegeses rendered 2 (two) possible options (Acta 2009:664, 10.15) confirms that the matter of women serving in the particular services is not an essential matter. As long as there is no valid justification, in the light of Scripture, the Confession or the Church Order, for choosing between the two options, the churches cannot make such a decision.
- 1.6 Due to information that is not true the 2016-decisions wrongly denounced the protests brought by churches against the 2009-decision. In doing this, the 2009-decision are being forced upon the churches with false authority.

Streeksinode Pretoria het wel toestemming gegee om die Beswaarskrif te stuur aan die Algemene Sinode. Die beswaardes meld wel, dat Streeksinode Randvaal 21 November 2017 nie 'n besluit oor die Beswaarskrif geneem nie (pt 6). Die Beswaarskrif het dus nie die kerklike weg ongehinderd gevolg nie. Aangesien die Beswaarskrif hoofsaaklik gaan oor “valse gesag”, het die Kommissie werk daarvan gemaak, om te bepaal of die argument van “valse gesag” 'n nuwe argument is en of dit nie reeds op vorige Sinodes gedien het nie. 2.2 Beredenering Om ontvanklikheid te bewys, wys die beswaardes self in pte 3.1 en 3.2 dat verskeie Beswaarskrifte reeds teen die besluit van 2009 ingedien is, en op 2016 afgewys is. Die feit dat daar verskeie Beswaarskrifte in die verlede ingedien is, is nie gronde vir ontvanklikheid van nog 'n Beswaarskrif nie. Die teendeel is eerder waar, dat indien vorige Beswaarskrifte dieselfde argumente aangevoer het as hierdie Beswaarskrif en afgewys is, hierdie Beswaarskrif nie ontvanklik kan wees nie. Die beswaardes beweer egter, dat die argument van “valse gesag” 'n nuwe argument is en nog nie gedien het nie (pt 3.4). In pt 3.5 beweer die beswaardes dat die besware teen die 2016-besluite nuwe sake is en daarom ontvanklik is. Die Kommissie sal egter aantoon, dat die argument van “valse gesag” reeds verskeie kere gedien het (hoewel dit nie “valse gesag” genoem is nie) en dat indien dieselfde argumente gebruik word teen die 2016-besluit (wat ook gebruik is teen die 2009-besluit) die Beswaarskrif nie ontvanklik is nie. Om die ontvanklikheid te bepaal, is dit belangrik om vas te stel wat die beswaardes met “valse gesag” bedoel: Dit is onder andere uit pte 4.2.2.1-4.2.2.5 duidelik wat die beswaardes onder valse gesag verstaan. “4.2.2.1 Die valse kerk is 'n werklikheid (NGB, art 29) en daarmee saam, die gevaar van valse gesag in kerklike besluite. 4.2.2.2 Kerklike besluite wat NIE in die	2017, did not deal with the Gravamen. Regional Synod Pretoria did give permission that the Gravamen be sent to General Synod. The aggrieved do mention that Regional Synod Randvaal, on 21 November 2017, did not take any decisions on this Gravamen (pt 6). The Gravamen thus did not follow the ecclesiastical way unhindered. Because the Gravamen mainly deals with “false authority”, the Commission made work of judging whether the argument of “false authority” is a new argument or whether it has not already served at previous Synods. 2.2 Arguments To prove receptivity the aggrieved themselves show in pts 3.1 and 3.2 that many other Gravamina already served against the decision of 2009, and was rejected in 2016. The fact that different Gravamina was submitted in the past, is not a basis for receptivity of another Gravamen. The opposite is true, that previous Gravamina which argued along the same lines was already rejected offers therefore a stronger basis for this Gravamen not being receptive. The aggrieved claim that the argument of “false authority” is a new argument and have not yet served (pt 3.4). In pt 3.5 the aggrieved claim that the grievances against the 2016-decisions is new matters and is therefore receptive. The Commission will show that the argument of “false authority” has served several times (although it was not called “false authority”) and that if the same arguments are used against the 2016-decision (which was used against the 2009-decision) the Gravamen be found to be not-receptive. To decide on the receptivity, it is important to investigate what the aggrieved mean by “false authority”: It is clear from pts 4.2.2.1-4.2.2.5 what the aggrieved understand under false authority. “4.2.2.1 The false church is a reality (BC, art 29) and so too the danger of false authority in church decisions. 4.2.2.2 Ecclesiastical decisions which are

Besluit: Punte 2.1 en 2.2 kennis geneem.

2.2.1 Beswaargrond 1

In Beswaargrond 1, beweer die beswaardes dat valse gesag deur die Sinode bedien is, omdat Skrifgesag vir die besluit ontbreek. Daar het egter al verskeie Beswaarskrifte gedien, wat juis gegrond is op die bewering dat die besluit van 2009 nie op Skrifgesag berus nie. Die klag van geen-Skrifgronde is reeds deur vorige Sinodes hanteer en afgewys. Die beswaardes gee dit hier bloot 'n nuwe naam, nl "valse gesag".

Uit Acta 2016 is dit duidelik dat "valse gesag" soos wat die Beswaardes dit verstaan, wel in besware aan die orde gestel is (hoewel daardie Beswaardes dit daar nie by name "valse gesag" genoem het nie). Die Sinode 2016 het reeds uitspraak gelewer oor bewerings, dat die besluit nie op Skrifgronde berus nie. Die volgende kan as voorbeelde dien:

In die Beswaarskrif van GK Klerksdorp (2016:63-66) kom die saak van valse gesag in o.a. die volgende punte aan die orde:

Punt 3: "Die Kerkraad van die GK Klerksdorp maak beswaar dat die beginsel-gewende besluit van die Sinode 2009 oor vroue in besondere dienste van predikante en ouderlinge geneem is "in die lig van die behandeling van die Rapport" en nie in gehoorsaamheid aan die Skrif nie".

Punt 3.1: Die besluit is geneem "in die lig van die behandeling van die Rapport" en nie in not based on and justified by Scripture, administer false authority and not the authority of Christ.

4.2.2.3 The false church assigns more authority to itself and its ordinances than to the Word of God; and it does not want to subject itself to Christ (BC, art 29).

4.2.2.4 Ecclesiastical resolutions without sound foundation in the Word of God, in the Confessions or the Church Order, boil down to human innovations and laws which men introduce into the worship of God to bind and force our consciences (BC, art 32).

4.2.2.5 Christ alone (solo Christo) and Scripture alone (sola Scriptura) determine the authority of ecclesiastical resolutions (Spoelstra 1989:143, 3).

Decision: Points 2.1 and 2.2 noted.

2.2.1 Grounds for objection 1

In basis for Objection 1, the aggrieved claim that false authority was administered by the Synod, because Scriptural authority for the decision is absent. Many Gravamina have been tabled in the past that was based on the claim that the 2009-decision was not based on Scriptural authority. The claim of no Scriptural basis has already been dealt with and rejected by previous Synods. The aggrieved simply rename it here as "False Authority".

From Acta 2016 it is clear that "false authority" as the aggrieved understand it, has already been tabled (although the Synods did not explicitly call it "false authority"). The Synod 2016 already expressed itself on these claims that the decision does not rest in Scriptural basis. The following serve as examples:

In the Gravamen of GK Klerksdorp (2016:63-66) false authority is amongst others discussed in the following points:

Point 3: "The Church Council of the GK Klerksdorp are aggrieved that the principle-giving decision of the 2009 Synod on woman in specific offices of ministers and elders was taken "in the light of the handling of the Report" and not in obedience to Scripture".

Point 3.1: The decision is taken "in the light of the handling of the Report" and not in “gehoorsaamheid aan die Skrif” nie.

Punt 3.2: “Die vraag ontstaan hoe bloot die meerderheid stem van die Sinode van die een standpunt die waarheid en van die ander standpunt dwaalleer kan maak? Moes die Sinode nie ‘n prinsipiële besluit op grond van bewese eksegetiese en Skrifgetuïenis oor hierdie saak geneem het nie?”

Punt 3.3: “Die Algemene Sinode moet aan die kerke duidelike en gemotiveerde Skrifgronde gee waarop hulle besluite berus. Indien sodanige Skrifgronde ontbreek of as, soos in hierdie geval, die motivering ontbreek waarom sekere interpretasies bó ander meer aanvaarbaar vir die Sinode is, berus die besluit net op die gesag van die Sinode self”.

In die beoordeling van die Beswaarskrif van die GK Klerksdorp deur die Sinode (Acta 2016:66-75)

In ‘n Kommissierapport, wat tydens Sinode 2016 gedien het, kom die volgende verwysing oor die saak van “valse gesag” na vore:

Punt 3.3 (Acta:67): In van die Beswaarskrifte word daar onderskeid gemaak tussen die “in die lig van die behandeling van die Rapport” teenoor die “gehoorsaamheid aan die Skrif”. Dit is ‘n valse onderskeid. Juis op grond van die Skrifgegewens (soos vervat in die Rapport) is daar bepaalde besluite geneem. Hier word, deur ‘n woordspeling, die indruk geskep dat die Sinode nie die Skrifgegewens behoorlik in aanmerking geneem het nie.

Punt 3.4 (Acta:67): “Wanneer ‘n Sinode besluite neem, word die Here gesmeek om aan die vergadering leiding te gee deur sy Gees (vgl KO, art 32). Alle Skrifverklarings, motiverings en beredenerings word in oorweging geneem voordat daar tot stemming oorgegaan word. Die besluit wat geneem word, staan, tensy die teendeel uit die Woord bewys kan word deur beswaar of Appèl (KO, artt 31 & 46)”.

In die beoordeling van die Beswaarskrif van die GK Klerksdorp deur Sinode 2016 word die volgende gestel:

Punt 4.2.1.1 (Acta 2016:69): Die beweerde onderskeid tussen die “in die lig van die behandeling van die Rapport” teenoor die “gehoorsaamheid aan die Skrif” is ‘n valse onderskeid. Juis op grond van die Skrif-

“obedience to Scripture”.

Point 3.2: “The question becomes how the majority vote of the Synod can make one viewpoint the truth and the other viewpoint heresy? Should the Synod not base a fundamentally-principal decision on proper exegesis and Scriptural witness on this matter?”

Point 3.3: “The General Synod must provide the churches with clear and motivated Scriptural basis upon which their decision rests. If such Scriptural basis lacks, or if as in this case, the motivation falls short for why certain interpretations is more acceptable over others, the decision only rests on the authority of the Synod itself”.

In the adjudication of the Gravamen of GK Klerksdorp by the Synod (Acta 2016:66-75)

In a Commission report during Synod 2016 amongst others, the following serves in terms of false authority:

Point 3.3 (Acta:67): In some of the Gravamina there is differentiated between “in the light of the handling of the Report” versus “obedience to the Scripture”. It is clearly a false distinction. Based upon the Scriptural grounds (as noted in the Report) there was certain decisions taken. Here for example by way of word-play the impression is created that the Synod did not take the Scriptural evidence for their reckoning.

Point 3.4 (Acta:67): “When a Synod takes a decision, the Lord is begged to guide the meeting through His Holy Spirit (ref CO, art 32). All explanations of Scripture, motivations and arguments is considered before there is voted. The decision that is taken stands unless the contrary can be shown from the Word by way of gravamen or appeal (CO, arts 31 & 46)”.

In the adjudication of the Gravamen of GK Klerksdorp by Synod 2016 the following is mentioned:

Point 4.2.1.1 (Acta 2016:69): The alleged distinction between “in the light of the handling of the Report” versus “obedience to Scripture” is a false distinction. Based upon the Scriptural grounds (as noted in the gegewens soos vervat in die Rapport is daar bepaalde besluite geneem. Hierdie is dus niks anders as 'n woordspeling wat die indruk skep dat die Sinode nie die Skrifgegewens deeglik in aanmerking geneem het nie.

Punt 4.2.1.2 (Acta 2016:69): Die Sinode het voor stemming ook spesifiek oorgegaan tot gebed (wat vreemd is aan die normale optrede (KO, art 32) deur die Sinode wat daagliks geopen en gesluit word met die veronderstelling dat alles gedoen en besluit word in diepe afhanklikheid van die Here se leiding deur sy Gees) en die Here gesmeek om aan die vergadering leiding te gee deur sy Gees. Daarna het die Sinode sy besluit geneem. Beide die Skrifverklarings is dus in oorweging geneem en daar is vir die een verklaring bo die ander gekies. Die keuse wat gemaak is, word dan die prinsipiële standpunt, tensy die teendeel uit die Woord bewys kan word deur beswaar of Appèl (KO, artt 31 & 46).

Punt 4.2.1.3 (Acta 2016:69): Die vereiste dat daar oor hierdie saak (hier word erken dat dit 'n prinsipiële saak is, wat dus 'n "wesentlike" saak is) ten minste konsensus moet wees oor die Skrifuitsprake, stel 'n nuwe werkswyse deur die Sinode voor. Hierdie voorgestelde nuwe werkswyse is nie by wyse van beswaar of Beskrywingspunt op die tafel gebring of getoets nie.

Punt 4.2.1.4 (Acta 2016:69): Die beswaardes beweer dat daar 'n probleem is of hierdie besluit wel op grond van Skrif, Belydenis en Kerkorde geneem is (KO, art 30). So 'n bewering moet op Skrifgronde bewys word. Hierdie bewering word nie met bewyse gestaaf nie.

Punt 4.4.1.1 (Acta 2016:70): Die beswaardes beweer dat daar nie op Skrifgronde motiveer word waarom vroue nie as ouderlinge bevestig mag word nie. Tog het die Sinode deur sy besluit wel vir die een interpretasie met die ondersteunende Skrifgegewens gekies. Dit dien dus as die Skrifmotivering. Die bewyslas rus dus nou op die beswaardes om die teendeel te bewys (KO, art 31).

In die Beswaarskrif van GK Krugersdorp (Acta 2016:71-75) kom die saak van "valse gesag" onder ander by die volgende punte in die Beswaarskrif aan die orde:

Report) there was certain decisions taken. Here for example by way of word-play the impression is created that the Synod did not take the Scriptural evidence for their reckoning.

Point 4.2.1.2 (Acta 2016:69): The Synod, before voting, humbled themselves in prayer (which is unusual to the normal approach (CO, art 32) which is to only open and close the Synod in the morning and evening with the understanding that everything done and decided in between is done in deep dependence upon the Lord's guidance through His Holy Spirit) and begged the Lord to grant the meeting guidance through His Spirit. Thereafter the Synod took its decision. Both explanations of Scripture were thus considered and there was chosen for the one over the other. The choice that was made, becomes the fundamental principle, unless the contrary can be shown from the Word by way of gravamen and appeal (CO, arts 31 & 46).

Point 4.2.1.3 (Acta 2016:69): The requirement that on this matter (here it is acknowledged that it is a fundamental matter, which is thus a "substantial" matter) at least consensus must be reached on the Scripture-evidence, puts forth a new approach by the Synod. This proposed approach was not brought to the table or tested by way of Gravamen or motion.

Point 4.2.1.4 (Acta 2016:69): The aggrieved claim that there is a problem with this decision not being taken based on Scripture, Confessions, and Church Order (CO, art 30). Such a claim must be proved with Scriptural basis. This claim is not substantiated with proof.

Point 4.4.1.1 (Acta 2016:70): The aggrieved claim that there is no motivation on Scriptural basis for woman to not be ordained as elders. Yet the Synod, through its decision, chose for one interpretation with the supporting Scriptural evidence. It thus serves as Scriptural motivation. The burden of proof rests upon the aggrieved to prove the contrary (CO, art 31).

In the Gravamen of GK Krugersdorp (Acta 2016:71-75) the matter of "false authority" is found under the following points:

Punt 2.1 (Acta 2016:71): Die verskil in bewoording van die besluite oor die diens van diaken en die diens van ouderling en predikant is opvallend en bevestig dat die twee besluite op verskillende basis geneem is:

“Die Sinode keur in die lig van die Skrif goed dat vroue wat die nodige gawes het as diakens in die GKSA verkies en bevestig kan word” (Acta 2009:668).

In die beoordeling van die Beswaarskrif van GK Krugersdorp (Acta 2016:78-81) kom die volgende verwysings na die saak van valse gesag voor:

Punt 3.3: “In van die Beswaarskrifte word daar onderskeid gemaak tussen die “in die lig van die behandeling van die Rapport” teenoor die “gehoorsaamheid aan die Skrif”. Dit is ‘n valse onderskeid. Juis op grond van die Skrifgegewens (soos vervat in die Rapport) is daar bepaalde besluite geneem. Hier word, deur ‘n woordspeling, die indruk geskep dat die Sinode nie die Skrifgegewens behoorlik in aanmerking geneem het nie.

Die bewering (pt 3.5) van die beswaardes dat enige besware teen die 2016-besluite nuut en daarom ontvanklik is, gaan dus nie op nie. Dieselfde argumente wat teen die besluite van 2009 gebruik is en op 2016 afgewys is, word nou deur die beswaardes gebruik teen die besluit van 2016 en is daarom nie ontvanklik, kragtens KO, art 46 nie.

Bevinding: Aangesien die saak van geen-Skrifgesag, wat die Beswaardes “valse gesag” noem, reeds deur die bogenoemde besluite hanteer en afgewys is, bevind die Kommissie dat Beswaargrond 1 kragtens KO, art 46 nie ontvanklik is nie.

2.2.2 Beswaargrond 2

Die Belydenis spreek die Skrif na. Die betrokke Sinodebesluite is op Skrifgronde geneem, soos die Kommissie reeds aangetoon het. Die Kommissie het ook aangetoon dat die bewering van geen-Skrifgronde, vals is.

Point 2.1 (Acta: 2016:71): The difference in wording of the decisions on the office of deacon and the office of elder and minister is clear and confirms that the two decisions was taken on different basis:

“The Synod approves in the light of Scripture that women who possess the necessary gifts in the GKSA may be elected and ordained” (Acta 2009:668).

“The Synod in the light of the handling of the Report came to the conviction that women may not serve in the specific offices of minister and elder” (Acta 2009:669).

In the adjudication of the Gravamen of GK Krugersdorp (Acta 2016:78-81) false authority is on the table in the next point the adjudication of the Gravamen.

Point 3.3: “In the Gravamina distinction is made between “in the light of the handling of the Report” versus “obedience to Scripture”. It is a false distinction. Based on the Scriptural evidence (as noted in the Report) certain decisions was made. Here by way of word-play the impression is created that the Synod did not take the Scriptural evidence for their reckoning.

The claim (pt 3.5) of the aggrieved that any grievances against the 2016-decision is new and therefore receptive, therefore does not stand. The same arguments that was used against the 2009-decisions, and rejected in 2016, is now used by the aggrieved against the decision of 2016 and is therefore according to CO, art 46 not receptive.

Finding: Because the matter of no-Scripture-authority was already dealt with in the mentioned decisions and subsequently rejected, the commission finds that basis for objection 1 is found to be not receptive according to CO, art 46.

Decision: Approved.

2.2.2 Basis for objection 2

The Confessions follow Scripture. The previous Synod decision is taken on Scripture-grounds, as the Commission has already shown. The Commission also showed that the claim of no-Scriptural-grounds is false.

Die beswaardes toon aan dat die Skrif genoegsaam is (Sola Scriptura – pt 4.1.2), maar dan voer hulle aan dat bewyse vanuit die Belydenis ook aangetoon moet word, asof die Belydenis 'n aparte dokument is, wat iets meer as die Skrif moet sê.

Die beswaardes voer in pt 2.1.3 aan dat die Sinodebesluite van 2009 & 2016 verder gaan as die Skrif en die Belydenis deur vroue uit te sluit van die besondere dienste van ouderling en predikant. Hierdie bewering van die beswaardes, berus op die feit dat die Belydenis hom nie uitspreek oor hierdie saak nie. Skrifbewys is egter genoegsaam om 'n saak af te wys. Die Kommissie het ook aangetoon dat daar Skrifbewyse was om die saak af te wys. Dit is nie nodig om 'n bewys uit die Belydenis ook aan te haal nie.

Die bewering van die beswaardes, dat die Sinodebesluite “verder gegaan het as die Belydenis” (pt 2.1.3) deur nie vroue tot die amp toe te laat nie, kan ook omgekeer word: indien vroue wel in die amp toegelaat word, sou die Sinode verder gaan as die Belydenis aangesien die Belydenis hom nie uitspreek oor hierdie saak nie.

Bevinding: Beswaargrond 2 is nie ontvanklik nie, aangesien dit nie nodig is vir die Sinode om by elke besluit wat op Skrifbewyse berus, die Belydenis ook aan te haal nie.

2.2.3 Beswaargrond 3

Beswaargrond 3, berus soos Beswaargrond 1, op die verkeerde aanname dat die Sinodebesluite nie op Skrifgronde geneem is nie, soos bv in 3.1.2.1.

In pt 3.1.4.2 neem die beswaardes 'n verkeerde vertrekpunt – die Kommissie het reeds aangetoon dat die beswaar van geen-Skrifgronde, reeds afgewys is.

In Beswaargrond 3, pt 3.1.2.4.2 sê die beswaardes tereg dat besluite wat nie o.g.v. die Skrif geneem is nie, kollegialisties is. Die Kommissie het egter reeds oortuigend aangetoon dat vorige Sinodebesluite beslis het, dat die besluite o.g.v. die Skrif geneem is en daarom is die klag van sg kollegialisme nie ter sake nie.

Bevinding: Aangesien 'n valse vertrekpunt hier geneem word, nl dat die Sinodebesluite nie op Skrifgronde gemaak is nie en daarom kollegialisties, is Beswaargrond 3 ook nie ontvanklik nie.

Besluit: Goedgekeur.

The aggrieved show that the Scripture is enough (Sola Scriptura – pt 4.1.2) but then claim that proof from the Confessions is also required, as if the Confessions is a separate document, which says something more than what Scripture says.

The aggrieved claim in 2.1.3 that the Synod decision of 2009 & 2016 goes further than Scripture and Confessions by excluding women from the specific offices of elder and minister. This claim rests on the fact that the Confessions do not express itself on this matter, but Scriptural evidence is enough to reject a matter. The Commission has shown that there was Scriptural evidence to reject the matter. It is thus not necessary to search for proof from the Confessions.

The claim by the aggrieved that the decisions of Synod “went further than the Confessions” (pt 2.1.3) by not allowing women in the office, can also be turned around: if women were to be allowed in office, the Synod would be going further than the Confessions because the Confessions does not say anything on this matter.

Finding: Basis for Objection 2 is found to be not-receptive, because it is not necessary for the Synod to quote the Confessions with every decision that rest on Scriptural basis.

Decision: Approved.

2.2.3 Basis for objection 3

Basis for Objection 3 rests like basis for Objection 1, upon the same wrong assumption that the Synod decisions was not taken on Scriptural basis, e.g. 3.1.2.1.

In 3.1.4.2 the aggrieved take the wrong point of departure – The Commission has already shown that the claim of no-Scriptural-grounds has already been rejected.

In basis for Objection 3, pt 3.1.2.4.2 the aggrieved rightly state that decisions not taken on Scriptural basis is collegial. The Commission however already showed convincingly that previous decisions of Synod found that the decisions was taken on Scriptural basis and therefore the accusation of so called Collegialism is not founded.

Finding: Because a false point of departure is taken here, namely that the Synods decisions was not based on Scripture and therefore collegial, basis for Objection 3 is found to be not-receptive.

Decision: Approved.

2.2.4 Beswaargrond 4

Die beswaardes beweer hier dat die besluit van 2009 valse gesag bedien en met valse gesag verdedig word in 2016 en met valse gesag op die kerke afgedwing word. Weereens berus hierdie Beswaargrond op die verkeerde aanname, nl dat die besluit nie op Skrifgronde geneem is nie. Sulke soortgelyke aantygings is reeds afgewys op vorige Sinodes, soos reeds aangedui onder Beswaargrond 1.

Bevinding: Beswaargrond 4 is nie ontvanklik nie.

3. Sake waaroor die Sinode besluit

3.1 Beswaargrond 1

Beswaargrond 1 is nie ontvanklik nie.

3.2 Beswaargrond 2

Beswaargrond 2 is nie ontvanklik nie.

3.3 Beswaargrond 3

Beswaargrond 3 is nie ontvanklik nie.

3.4 Beswaargrond 4

Beswaargrond 4 is nie ontvanklik nie.

Besluit: Goedgekeur.

Beswaargronde 1-4 is nie ontvanklik nie, soos aangetoon, en daarom is die hele Beswaarskrif, kragtens KO, art 46 nie ontvanklik nie.

2.2.4 Basis or objection 4

The aggrieved claim that the decision of 2009 serves false authority and that it is defended with false authority in 2016 and that it is forced upon the churches with false authority. Once again, this basis for objection rests upon the wrong point of departure namely that the decision is not based upon Scriptural evidence. Similar claims have already been rejected at previous Synods, as shown under basis of Objection 1.

Finding: Basis for objection 4 is found to be not-receptive.

Decision: Approved.

3. Matters that the Synod decide on

3.1 Basis for objection 1

Basis for objection 1 is found to be not-receptive.

Decision: Approved.

3.2 Basis for objection 2

Basis for objection 2 is found to be not-receptive.

Decision: Approved.

3.3 Basis for objection 3

Basis for objection 3 is found to be not-receptive.

Decision: Approved.

3.4 Basis for objection 4

Basis for objection 4 is found to be not-receptive.

Decision: Approved.

Basis for objection 1-4 is found to be not-receptive, as shown, and therefore the whole Gravamen, according to CO, art 46 is found to be not-receptive.

Decision: Approved.
